PARDON ASKED FOR OHIO JUDGE

Cooper Promises "Serious Consideration" of Plea for Toledo Jurist

MEETS DELEGATION

Requested To Clear Ira B Cole of 14-Year-Old Charge

COLUMBUS July 23 — Governor Myers Y Cooper this afternoon promised to give serious consideration to the plea that he issue a pardon to Municipal Judge Ira B Cole Toledo Cole It was declared pleaded guilty at Bowling Green, on April 15 1915 to a charge of participating in the theft of shoes from a box car He was given a suspended sentence of from one to 15 years in the Marshall state reformatory by Common Pleas Judge Elmer G McClellan at Bowling Green

Hears Delegation

The governor's promise was made after listening to a delegation of World war veterans and officials and attorneys from Toledo who urged the governor to restore Judge Cole to full citizenship

The governor also made public a letter from Judge McClellan asking the governor to pardon Cole

The pleas for clemency were due to the action of Assistant City Law Director Edward Lamb Toledo who recently asked the Toledo Bar association to investigate the question of the fitness of Judge Cole to continue on the bench in view of the action of the court at Bowling Green Cole was a minor at the time of his arraignment

Before taking final action in the case it was expected that Governor

MAY HOLD BIRD DOG TRIALS HERE AUG. 28

Association Stamps Approval on Marion County Location on Agosta Rd.

That Marion county will furnish hunting grounds for the Southern Field Trials the outstanding bird dog trials of the season seems very probable, following inspection and approval of several farms here by officials of the Southern Field Trials association this week

If Marion county is chosen for the trials, it will be the first time for the contest to be held in Ohio Indiana fields have been the scene of these trials for many years

Marion county was recommended to the association by O N Neimeyer of Prospect a winner of many of the trials, and judge of many of their contests It was on his recommendation that the investigation was made here

Dr P K Phillips Dr I M Boyd and Dr Fangestale of Cincinnati constituted the investigating committee from the Southern Field Trials Association that was in Marion this week

The trials are to be run the week of Oct 28 (in three events) with quail as game If the contest is staged near here prize winning dogs from United States and Canada will be here to compete for $1 000 in purses The proposed site for the trials is on the Agosta rd a few miles west of Marion

Approximately 125 champion dogs are expected to be entered in the contest this fall regardless of where it is held The committee expressed the approval of the fields here and had no criticisms or objections to offer that might prevent the contest coming to Marion this fall

HOOVER AIMS TO CUT COST

Determines Upon Drastic Policy of Reducing Army Expenses

ORDERS COMMISSION

Action Taken After Finding U S Military Budget Is Largest

WASHINGTON July 23—President Hoover has determined to put into effect a drastic policy of reducing army expenses, it was announced today

To that end he has ordered a commission set up within the general staff of the army to determine where the cuts can best be made It is Mr Hoover's idea to have this drastic economy policy apply to all military expenditures up to and including the fiscal year of 1931 which is the last year of his present term

In his study of war department expenditures the president said he had found that the annual United States military budget is the largest of its kind in the world—this at a time when the possibility of war is considered most remote

In announcing his decision to have a reconsideration of the whole army program President Hoover said

"The American people should understand that current expenditure on strictly military activities of the army and navy constitutes the largest military budget of any nation in the world today and at a time when there is less real danger of expensive disturbance to peace than at any time in more than half a century

The hope of tax reduction lies in large degree in our ability to economize the military and naval expenditure and still maintain adequate defense Our whole situation is certainly modified by the Kellogg pact"

SQUABBLE OVER LIGHTS TAKES IN CENTER ST.

City Refuses To Sign Contract, Wants Agreement on Main St

SPECIAL SESSION NEEDED

Charge C. D. & M Stalling To Obtain Higher Rate on Lights

Claiming the sole purpose of alleged stalling on the part of officials of the C D & M Electric Co is to bring about a demand for increased rates for proposed white way lights for Main st city council last night refused to pass an ordinance that would result in the white way lights for Center st but would leave Main st in the dark

The controversy between council and company officials assumed more serious aspects last night than ever before as the time is nearly here when paving work on Center st will be started It is said that conduits for wiring the proposed new lights should be laid before the pavement is laid but paving work on one half of the street is expected to be completed by the time for the next regular session of council No solution of the situation was in sight last night

A called session of council at which an agreement with company officials might be reached is seen as the only possible method to avoid the construction of Center st without first installing light conduits To build the pavement first and then excavate in it to lay conduits would be the height of folly both company and city officials have stated

Gentlemen's Agreement

Council based its decision to 'let the ordinance lay' on the fact that a tentative contract was submitted several months ago by company officials which provided for the lighting of Main and Center sts with bracket type lights to which the officials are said to have verbally agreed Once again the all good gentlemen's agreement between city and company officials to which all difficulties were thought to have been ironed out was brought into discussion

The ordinance presented last night was jointly drawn by City Solicitor G J Geran and W P Mckenney, counsel for the company at the suggestion

COLUMBUS July 23—On the eve of the trial of Dr James H Snook for the murder of Miss Theora Hix 21 year old Ohio State university co-ed there was every indication today that the defense will be insanity of the uncontrollable impulse' form

The 49 year old deposed college professor is expected to contend that he beat the girl to death and slashed her throat while in the throes of an uncontrollable impulse which he does not understand—even today

Dr Snook goes on trial tomorrow before Judge Henry L Scarlett in criminal court less than six weeks after the murder was committed

NEW CUNARDER TO SEEK BREMEN TITLE

Company Announces Plans for Boat To Beat Vanquisher of Mauretania

NEW YORK, July 23—The North German Lloyd liner Bremen today added her name to the long list of famous ships which have made historic transatlantic crossings

Columbus touched the Bahamas after 71 days The Mayflower follows on the log with a 68-day crossing The first steamer made the eastbound trip in 26 days.

The dethroned Mauretania looks to the Cunard line for a sister who will beat the Bremen, her vanquisher Cunard officials have announced plans for a vessel that will push the Bremen.

Germany's latest claim for steamship supremacy on the seas—the steamship Bremen — steamed into New York Harbor yesterday afternoon, after a record breaking journey from Cherbourg, France.

The trip was completed in slightly more than four days and 17 hours, easily beating the best previous record for the Cherbourg-New York crossing, which was established when the Cunarder Mauretania made the distance in five days, two hours and 24 minutes.

The giant German passenger liner was greeted with honors such as had not been paid to any ocean liner since the arrival here of the United Eastonia nearly 12 years ago Police Commissioner Grover Whalen rowed out to the port as New York's official welcomer and went down the bay on the Macom with a group of distinguished passengers.

Near pandemonium prevailed along

BANKING LEGISLATION SUBJECT OF STUDY

Prediction of "Chain Banks" Draws Attention of Federal Lawmakers

WASHINGTON July 23—With many bankers predicting the formation of giant holding companies to develop 'chain banking' throughout the nation, Representative Louis T McFadden Republican of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house banking and currency committee, today announced that he is making a study of the situation with the possibility that vital banking legislation may be proposed in congress

The question has been openly raised as to whether the system of individual banks can survive unless steps are taken to curb the widespread growth of branch banking under state banking laws, McFadden believes

Prepares Legislation

The growth of the state banking system at the expense of the national system also has been studied by treasury officials, and the comptroller of the currency, it is understood, is preparing legislation to be submitted to congress

McFadden, who has been known as an opponent of branch banking, is author of the McFadden act which gave national banks the right to have branches in the city in which they are chartered. The act was passed after bills for unrestricted branch banking were rejected.

"At the time I called attention to the danger of chain banking, and the very thing has happened that I thought would happen," said McFadden "Branch banking has proceeded without interruption and today it is at a point where many bankers are predicting that if a national branch banking law is not passed permitting branch banks generally, we will have chain banks throughout the country."

POPE BARS MOVIES OF VATICAN SCENE

Declines to Have Pictures Taken of His Historic Exit Thursday

VATICAN CITY, July 23—Pope Pius XI today forbade moving picture cameramen to make pictures of his historic exit from the Vatican on Thursday evening.

Despite the desire in some quarters for a photographic record of this event to be handed down to posterity, the pontiff declined to permit the making of pictures.

The governor of the Vatican city warned the photographers that they will be permanently barred from the Vatican if they ignore the pontiff's request.

It was stated that the Pope did not wish to have the event shown in performances with worldly shows' nor give opportunity to use it to attract Catholics to the movies.

The Vatican requested the Italian government to prevent filming the scenes from the Italian side of the Vatican city frontier

TELLS OF BOULDER DAM AT MEETING

Hunter Says Project Will Benefit Former Service Men of Country

Intimate knowledge of the proposed Boulder dam and what it will mean to former service men was learned by Rotarians at their regular luncheon today in Hotel Harding. Robert Hunter, district sales manager for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron was the speaker, choosing the Boulder proposition for his subject.

In spite of the floods of protests from different parts of the country including Ohio, Hunter maintained the Boulder dam would offer many advantages The proposed dam will cost about $125 000,000 and will furnish about 1,000.000 horsepower in addition to irrigating thousands of acres of land Former army men will be given special privileges in "staking their claims" for land which will be irrigated by the dam, and which is now owned by the government. After 90 days, during which none but former ex-service men will be allowed to file claims, the land will be open to the public for claims.

We notice that an epigram gives some people pleasure, while another it always provokes to a contentious "replying" temper.

Today's Review of Yesterday's Grain

CHICAGO, July 23—Dry weather in the Northwest over the week-end, strong closing cables and a frenzied upturn at Winnipeg caused a sharp rally in local wheat prices yesterday as longs reinstated and pubuc buying was renewed Prices opened substantially higher and advanced to stantially higher and advanced to close 7@7 1-2c up, regaining more than half the losses recorded on the reaction last week.

Advices of backwardness of the crop and the bulge in wheat stimulated corn buying Prices of the yellow cereal moved up as buyers bid for light offerings in a quiet trade, and the market finished 2 5-8@3c higher. Oats gained 1 1-4@2c for the day on the strength in corn and the bullish Northwest news, and rye closed 7 3-4@9 5-8c up with wheat.

Prices Open Higher

Anticipating a flood of bullish crop reports following the adverse weather in the American Northwest over the week-end, wheat bulls bid to reinstate sold-out lines and prices were up 2 3-4@3 1-2c at the opening. Commission houses which were heavily on the selling side late last week were active buyers, and eastern interests were reported purchasing substantially.

The market was called upon to absorb an enormous volume of hedging from the Southwest, and profit-taking, but the demand forced prices steadily higher, with only slight recessions on the advance. There was some selling after the high wire made at 1 p'clock on the increase of 5,967,000 bushels in visible supplies.

Before the close, the expectations for bullish reports from the Northwest were fulfilled with a wire from R O Cromwell of Lamson Bros, who said, "I interpret the pool report as forecasting 24,000,000 bushels wheat for Manitoba, 133,000,000 for Saskatchewan and 62,000 000 for Alberta. This figures 219,000,000 for the three provinces"

Early seaboard news indicated a good demand for hard wheat via the Gulf on the break of Saturday. Its the close sales of 200 000 to 300,000 domestic wheat, Gulf No 1 hard, August 10 to 25, f. o. b Galveston at 3 1 4c under September was confirmed The pool said there was nothing doing in Canadian varieties, as their prices were 10c over the market

Bookings Increase

Bookings of wheat increased on the advance, the total reaching 439,000 bushels by the close. This included 227 000 bushels from Southwest markets

Commission houses and local bulls bought corn; strength in wheat and reports from Missouri, Illinois and Kansas of lockwardness and flooding damage to the crop being the incentives Local cash demand was active with the basis 1-2c higher to 1 2c lower Shipping sales totaled 175,000 bushels. Country offerings were still very light and only 25,000 bushels was booked to arrive

B W. Snow of Bartlett, Frazier & Co gave out a statement construed as bullish reporting a trip of 250 miles through central Illinois He estimates the crop as a whole is two weeks late, that it is exceedingly irregular in growth and has a loss from abandoned or drowned acreage that is sufficient to seriously reduce the crop volume.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

The big juicy watermelon virtually gives you more for the money than any other item on Marion fruit and vegetable markets. More than 50 pounds of melon for but little more than that many cents—no wonder they are popular now.

Huge green melons are now selling at 55 cents each, probably their low mark for the season They started in at $1.50, and gradually reduced to the present level.

Some fine varieties of imported peaches are now available here at very moderate prices. Grocers report choice peaches for 10 cents a pound Local peaches are a few weeks away yet

This is the time of year when all items are at a standstill, grocers say There are but few variations in price, and practically no new items coming in There will be but little action on markets here until local fruits arrive, they predict.

Other officers elected were Miss Julia Weitzel, vice president; and Hortense Fies, secretary and treasurer. About 77 answered the roll call. A basket lunch was enjoyed during the noon hour. It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the Garfield park, July 27, 1930

Modern Age Is Driving Amish Out of Kansas

DODGE CITY, Kan.—The buzz of tractors, the hum of combine machines, the mechanical contrivances of a new modern age have driven away a community of Amish people from southwest Kansas, and now there are only four families remaining, where once 200 people resided.

Rather than give up their horses and their old methods of farming, they have moved to Virginia, Maryland, and New Jersey, where they believe they can farm according to their methods.

A definite reason for extra value in our USED CARS
WHEN you buy a used car you should be sure the price is not put above the actual worth of the car, to allow the dealer to recoup an excessive trade-in allowance.
Under the Ford policy there is no incentive for this sort of practice—for the price of the new Ford car is so low, and the value so high, that unreasonable trade in concessions are hardly possible
We allow the buyer of a Model A just what his old car is worth—and we offer that used car for sale on the same basis. Model T Fords are reconditioned throughout, and guaranteed. Prices for other makes of cars are based on the service you will get from them Right now we are offering unusual bargains in unused transportation.

Prussia and Vatican in Church Agreement

BERLIN — A Socialist and a Catholic Bishop met here and signed an international treaty between the Vatican and the state of Prussia regulating the status of the Catholic church in that state.

The Socialist was Premier Otto Braun of Prussia. The bishop was Mgr Dr. Eugenio Pacelli, archbishop of Sardes, papal nuntius in Berlin.

Treaties between states and the Vatican are called "concordates," but this word was carefully avoided in the treaty with Protestant and Socialist Prussia in order not to challenge opposition.

India Not Ready for All Its Power, Arnold Says In Talk at Chautauqua

Groundwork for Advancement of Country Must Start with Education, Speaker Claims, After Discussing Castes and Religious Conditions; Independence Is Goal

"India is not ready for all its power, and it is madness to try to rule the country today as if was 4,000 years ago, the plan of one of India's leaders," Julian B. Arnold, world traveler, said last night at Garfield park in his lecture on "India, Past and Present."

Facts were brought to light and shown in their relative importance to America and India by Mr. Arnold. Ghandi, the Ali brothers and other remarkable leaders, both British and native, were discussed.

"Great Britain has done its very best to bring the country into the world, but with 3,372 separate and distinct castes, and 53 different religions, how can you make men vote in an election?" This is one of the difficult problems which Great Britain faces in trying to bring India to the light.

In the 53 religions of India there are two that are stronger than the others, the Hindus, with 184,000,000 followers and the Moslems, with 67,000,000 worshippers. "There is nothing but the shadow of the law of religions, that every man may worship as he chooses, that keeps them from terrific warfare," according to the lecturer.

"The ground work upon which India must build—education—Great Britain has tried to build. But the people will not be educated," Mr. Arnold declared. "Education in India is valued at one cent a head. Years ago there was one school for every 7,000,000 people and today there is one school for every 1,000,000 people. But the people want no."

"The women in India are not free. There is no way to reach them to educate them, for you cannot even see what they look like," he explained. "But that veil which imprisons the women is slowly coming down."

"As India has awakened she has begun to send her boys to Oxford, England, to be educated. They come back, highly educated men who can read Latin and Greek, but not honest, they will accept bribes. They are suited only for small jobs. You do not hear complaints on conditions in India today from the 320,000,000 populaton of India, but from the 4,000,000 people who are educated.

There is no question that Great Britain is in India to stay. She is there only as a pathway to a goal—the independence of India. In the last 10 years the government has sifted down from the consul to the congress of the natives.

Conditions in India, the appalling death rate of babies, 337 out of every 1,000 die in their first year, because of the marriage of Indian boys and girls at the ages of 10 and 14 years of age or even younger, were frankly disclosed.

Closing, Mr. Arnold said: "India means a great deal to America. The country is coming straight up. In 10 years, India will not be so fond of blood, but will be fond of clean things."

Elias Serenaders Give Program

Marion patrons of music were treated with a novelty Monday afternoon and night when the Elias Tamburitza Serenaders appeared at the Garfield park pavilion as the second days, entertainment on the Chautauqua season.

Charles Elias, Charles Jr., Marta Elias, Anne Elias and Charles' brother, Bert Elias, provided an hour and a half program of operatic, native, popular and old-time American songs, that brought instantaneous applause from the audience of more than 600 Chautauqua patrons.

The tamburitza's, of which there are 20 in the company, are common musical instrument of Jugo-Slavia, but the Elias Serenaders are the only company of their kind appearing on the American platform today. The members have been here for eight years.

An idea of the diversity of music played on these instruments, new to American audiences is seen in a glance at several of their selections, aria's from Verdi's "Rigoletto" and "Il Trasatore," "Weary River," "Valencia," "Poet and Peasant Overture," "The Rosary," "In the Gloaming" and "My Old Kentucky Home."

Elias played one of his own compositions, "A Day in Jugo-Slavia," for the afternoon appearance. This was a colorful number, suggestive of the average day in his native country. The crowing of the cock, ringing of the church bells and hunters horn, awakened the village. A ride to hounds, victorious catch of the fox, dance of triumph, a thunder storm and finally, the notes that sounded the end of day, were all brought out in this number.

A particularly charming selection was a piece brought by the Serenaders from their own country. It was originated by the shepherds of Jugo-Slavia hundreds of years ago, and sung by them while watching their flocks. One of the movements was distinctly recognizable as part of the melody of America's "Home Sweet Home."

A delightful spot in the program last night was the violin solo. A Hungarian composition, by Charles Jr. "Kolo," the native dance of Jugo-Slavia, was danced by Charles Jr. and his sister Marta. This dance is given only three times a year in its native country, on the first of May, on a day corresponding with America's Thanksgiving day and at homecoming time.

CITY BRIEFS

Cresap Services—Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Cresap, of 236 Orchard st., who died Sunday at her home, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home and at 2:30 at the First United Brethren church. The Rev. H. F. Weckmueller, pastor of First Reformed church, was in charge of the services. Interment was made in Marion cemetery.

Moose Meeting—Routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of Marion Lodge No. 880, Loyal Order of Moose, last night in the lodge rooms. The lodge will meet again next Monday night.

Receive Application—One application was received at a meeting of the Kosciusko Lodge, No. 58, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, last night. Routine business was transacted and the lodge will meet again next Monday night.

Plane Passengers—Frank D. Markley and three sons, Frank, Ernest and John, of Barnhart st., were passengers on a 27 minutes airplane ride Sunday afternoon in a plane from the Dixie Davis Flying field at Cincinnati. The plane was taking passengers up near Marion.

Car Stolen—A 1925 model Hudson, with a homemade trunk on the back, was stolen from a parking place near the schoolhouse on Oak st. last night, Mrs. Perry Buell told police late last night. The license number was 221-361.

Wiring Burns—A short circuit in the wiring of his Hudson automobile brought the fire chief's car to 200 South Vine st., home of S. B. Lewis, last night to extinguish flames that did approximately $2 damage. The call was turned in at 8:28 o'clock.

Horseshoe Contest — The annual horseshoe pitching contest will be held Wednesday night by members of the Epworth League of Green Camp. There will also be an ice-cream social and band concert at 8 o'clock.

Plan Picnic—Plans were completed for a picnic to be held July 31 at Crystal Lake at a meeting of the Minnetonka Council No. 24, Degree of Pocahontas, last night in the hall, South Main st. An invitation was also extended to the Order of Red Men to join in the picnic. Routine business was transacted during the business session.

Miss Long in Hospital—Miss Vivian Long, 484 South Prospect st., was received at City hospital this morning for an appendicitis operation.

Taken to Hospital—Mrs. Alfred G. Winchell, 985 Congress st., was removed to City hospital last night in the Hess, Markert & Axe invalid car for an abdominal operation.

Operated On—Miss Mildred Bodley, Marion route No. 7, underwent a tonsil operation at City hospital this morning.

Postoffice Picnic — About 40 employes of the postoffice and their families and friends enjoyed an all day picnic Sunday at the C. A. Russell cottage at Waterbury. The time was spent in horseshoe pitching and baseball. A picnic dinner and supper was served. During the evening the guests motored to Russel Point and enjoyed dancing.

Takes Treatment—Mrs. John Cook, east of Waldo, was received at the Frederick C. Smith clinic yesterday for treatment of stomach trouble.

Want Light—A petition for a street light on Dix av. between Center st. and Wilson av., was referred to the light committee for investigation, following its presentation to city council last night by a representative of 12 signers.

Authorizes Light—Installation of a street light on Walnut st., east of Vine st., by the C., D. & M. Electric Co., was authorized by city council last night. This action follows the presentation of a petition several weeks ago signed by the Bowen Real Estate Co., Lillian M. Curtis, and O. A. Curtis. The petition asked for the installation of two lights.

Legislation Started on Three City Improvement Projects

ORTH PROSPECT ST. TO BE RESURFACED

ection from Mark St. to Erie in Line for New Top

SEWER FOR DAVIDS

hree Projects Outlined in Patterson St. from Mark to Fairground

Legislation on three city improvements were started last night by city council by the passage of resolutions declaring these improvements necessary.

A resolution declaring it necessary to improve North Prospect st. from Mark st. to the Erie railroad by resurfacing was among those passed last night. This action follows a petition bearing 19 signers presented to council on Dec. 28, 1928. While the proposition of repairing this section of Prospect st. was under consideration, City Engineer T. S. Cathers suggested that city council begin the necessary legislation for the rebuilding of Prospect st. from the Erie railroad to Columbia st. He said that resurfacing would be of little value on this street, as the concrete foundation has partially rotted and can be torn up with an ordinary plow in some places. No action was taken on the engineer's recommendation.

A resolution to improve Davids st. by constructing a sanitary sewer from Broad street to a point 200 feet south of Bellefontaine av. was passed last night. This action was taken partly on the initiatire of council, following the unsuccessful circulation of a petition among property owners some time ago. Due to the fact that many abutting residents on the street have tapped their sewers to a storm water sewer, the sanitary line was thought necessary.

While this matter was up for passage, it was pointed out that the property owners on one side of Davids st. would be obliged to pay for the entire share of the property owners' expense of the job, as a railroad line runs on the opposite side of the street. City Engineer T. S. Cathers stated that the sewer needed would be a shallow one, and the taps needed would be short if the sewer was built near the curb and the cost would be but little more than half that of an ordinary sewer.

If undertaken, this line will join a 200-foot section of sanitary sewer line built by private property owners at different times within the last few years.

The third improvement declared necessary at last night's meeting was the construction of a sanitary sewer, a storm water sewer and cellar drain in Patterson st., from Mark st. to Fairground st. This action follows a petition of property owners and an investigation by city officials and council members.

AMERICAN'S TRIAL STARTS IN LONDON

Richard Reynolds Held on Manslaughter Charge in Motor Traffic Death

LONDON, July 23—Members of the American colony in London who had nothing else in particular to do turned out en masse at the Old Bailey today for continuation of the trial of Richard Joshua Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, son of the late R. J. Reynolds, multi-millionaire tobacco magnate, on a charge of manslaughter.

Reynolds is accused of causing the death of Arthur Graham, an Englishman, who was fatally injured when his motorcycle was struck and demolished by a powerful green automobile on the road to Slough on May 24. He died three days later at the Royal hospital, Windsor.

The trial is being held in a courtroom of the Central Criminal court housed in the Old Bailey, a beautiful building erected on the site of the famous courthouse of the same name which stood in the time of Dickens, and where the never-to-be-forgotten Bardwell vs. Pickwick trial took place.

Sir Henry Maddocks, K. C. (King's counsel), who is prosecuting, told the court at the opening of the trial he would produce evidence that on May 24 a green touring car, similar to one hired from a London garage by Reynolds, had been seen by two witnesses being driven erratically along the Slough highway.

ACTION OF COUNCIL CUTS ASSESSMENTS

Property Owners Benefit from Lower Cost of Paving Street

Former assessment figures on the property owners' share of the expense of paving West Center st. from the Hocking Valley railroad to Oak st. were substantially reduced by an ordinance adopted by city council last night. The new assessment figures were made from the actual cost of the work.

The original assessment of $14.25 a lineal foot for the paving work was reduced to $13.04 by last night's legislation, and assessments for taps or laterals was reduced from approximately $87 to $59.70.

ALL IN A DAY

Speedy Proceedings Land Ohio Man in Penitentiary

COLUMBUS, July 23—Robert D. Norwood, 31, of Cleveland is in the Ohio State penitentiary here today.

That is not unusual so read the story through.

Norwood was arrested in Wilmington yesterday morning on a forgery charge. He was indicted a short time later. Then came the arraignment, and he pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to one to three years in the state prison and was brought to the penitentiary here, so he holds a record of being arrested, indicted, arraigned, sentenced and incarcerated in one day.

Ill Health Drives 2 Ohioans to Suicide

COLUMBUS, July 23—Without funds and with ill health slowly crumbling his life's shell, Moses J. Kennedy, 65-year-old bachelor, took a revolver and slew himself here yesterday.

In a room in a quiet residential section, the man had spent the past eight years, and in that same room he shot himself through the forehead.

His suicide act was superinduced by lack of employment.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., July 23—A 67-year-old man rose up from his sick bed during the absence of his wife, wandered to a nearby stream and then fired a revolver bullet into his own temple here yesterday. The man, Wilton A. Methorn, died almost instantly. His wife had gone to a store.

Despondency because of his sickness is believed to have prompted his act.

FALLS TO DEATH

COLUMBUS, July 23 — While a friend gazed on horror-stricken, Samuel B. Barton, 70, dropped from a roof on which he was painting today. The injuries he sustained, which were a broken neck and a fractured skull, proved fatal.

Report Pennsylvania's Plans for New Road

TOLEDO, July 23 — An unconfirmed report was making the rounds in railroad circles here today to the effect that the Pennsylvania railroad may use the recently purchased Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, for its Toledo-Detroit division.

The plan calls for a four-track system between Toledo and Detroit, according to the report. Tests were made on the property last week.

The Ann Arbor and Pere Marquette is under lease at present to the Pennsylvania for its Toledo-Detroit division.

RIVERSIDES
The first choice of millions of motorists throughout America

YOU hear a lot of talk and read many statements nowadays, about how many millions of this or that tire have been sold... and why. These statements fail to point out, however, that a large percentage of all these tires are sold as "factory equipment" on popular makes of automobiles. In other words, the motorist himself has had very little to say about selecting the tire equipment of the new car he buys.

When these same motorists, however, have an opportunity to study tire quality and tire values for themselves, the story becomes somewhat different!...

Take, for example, the popularity of RIVERSIDES among car-owners. This famous tire was introduced to the American public 18 years ago. Since that time RIVERSIDES have been sold to many millions of motorists throughout America. A great majority of these tires have been sold on merit alone—without any high-pressure salesmanship. And they were bought on just three points: the splendid reputation of Montgomery Ward & Co.—the definite mileage guarantees under which RIVERSIDE Tires have always been sold—and the recommendation of millions of satisfied users.

Facts like these cannot be disputed or ignored. They explain why RIVERSIDE Tires occupy a place among the leaders of the industry—and it is because of these facts that we make the claim, and back it with our guarantees, that RIVERSIDES are THE EQUAL OF ANY TIRE MADE, regardless of price. This statement we are anxious to have you prove to your own satisfaction—on your own car—the next time you are in the market for tires.

In the matter of price, RIVERSIDES, of course, save you money. Compared with the five or six other leading makes of equal quality, for example, your savings on a RIVERSIDE range from about $2 per tire (on the 29x4.40 RIVERSIDE Balloon) to $5 to $10 on larger sizes. Surely such savings merit your most careful consideration... particularly in view of the fact that when you purchase a RIVERSIDE you are protected by definite guarantees of 16,000 and 30,000 miles of service! No other make of tire in America today, backed by an organization with the responsibility of Montgomery Ward & Co., is sold under such definite mileage guarantees.

Visit our store today and see these RIVERSIDES for yourself. Note their quality construction, low price, iron-clad mileage guarantees... and buy on FACTS, not "talk."

Daily Proverb—"House-keeping without a housewife is a lantern without a light."

Two dry agents are under arrest at Minot, South Dakota, for inducing young girls to drink and act as decoys. The Ohio plan seems to be spreading.

The entire enrollment of the district school of East Whitefield, New Hampshire, is made up of the children of two brothers. Isn't that overdoing the exclusive business a bit?

As the result of the war scare a food panic is on in Russia, and all the grain raisers are hoarding their products. Even a threat of war is enough to bring on untold misery.

A citizen of Albany last week fell for the old "wire-tapping" game and was beaten out of $40,000 by sharpers. Main Street, it may be noted, hasn't any monopoly when it comes to the matter of suckers.

A Montpelier story says that approximately $1,000,000 worth of Vermont's maple syrup crop is purchased annually by cigaret manufacturers to sweeten their products. Looks a lot as though the fake is on the girls who take to the fags to reduce.

The "Water Boy" king of Afghanistan is said to have suffered a severe defeat and to be on the run before supporters of the former king, Amanullah. Afghans may yet have to submit to the wearing of spats.

The remaining eight of the first ten American 10,000-ton cruisers will have more speed than the first two under construction, and the next ten will be of an improved model and be longer, faster and better protected. Another illustration of the effect the new 10,000-ton cruiser of Germany has had on warship construction.

After three years' delay, the French chamber of deputies has ratified the American and British debt accords and it has yet to pass the French senate. If the accord takes correspondingly as long to get through congress, the next generation may probably be in position to know where it stands.

About Law Enforcement.

It was to be expected that some one would throw dirt at President Hoover's law enforcement commission before it got well under way, and the demand of a southern United States senator that George W. Wickersham be compelled to resign his post as chairman comes as no surprise.

There never has been a time in the history of the country when an honest and intelligent effort was made to get at the root of some evil that an individual or a group outside the investigation then under way did not jump into the picture by demanding a resignation or otherwise seeking to impede progress of the inquiry.

Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, a Democratic dry, is after Chairman Wickersham's scalp. He says Wickersham is hurting rather than helping the cause of law enforcement, which President Hoover wanted investigated. Caraway has a reputation for jumping flat-footed into every senate debate to fight for the dry cause, and so it is not in the last surprising that he is in this fight.

The bone of contention, as Senator Caraway sees it, is a letter which Wickersham sent to the conference of governors in Connecticut, and which Caraway declares "lends encouragement to the criminal world and brands the law—prohibitory—as unenforceable." He wants Mr. Wickersham removed from the law enforcement commission because he wrote this letter, or had it written and forwarded.

But where Mr. Caraway is in error, as we see it, is in jumping at conclusions. To get to the bottom of crime and its causes in the United States is the objective of the Wickersham group. Prohibition enforcement is one of the biggest phases of the law enforcement investigation, or the crime inquiry, which it may be called. But how is a group like the Wickersham inquisitors to get to the root of the evil if it doesn't search for all the information obtainable—and where is there a better fountain of information, whether good or bad, than among a group of governors from widely scattered states and representing a diversified public opinion as regards law enforcement, and particularly prohibitory law enforcement.

Mr. Wickersham, as we view his act, did a very sensible thing in writing the letter to which Senator Caraway objects. And if it were not for fanatics it is quitely likely the law enforcement programs of the several states would have more respect than they now get. Throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery before the machinery is well started, will get Senator Caraway nothing and most certainly will not help the Hoover crime commission toward the goal it seeks.

A New Queen of the Seas.

Maritime history was made Sunday, when the North German Lloyd liner, Bremen, reached New York on her maiden trans-atlantic trip after having established a new day's run record and cut the Atlantic record by hours. Her time from Cherbourg to New York was four days, eighteen hours and seventeen minutes, against the record made by the Mauretania, of the Cunard line in September of last year of five days, five hours and thirty-four minutes. Her best day's run was 713 knots, against the record run of 676 knots made by the Mauretania, so long the liner mistress of the seas, in January, 1911.

The new German liner has been referred to in type as the longest and largest liner afloat. She is not that, but she is easily the longest, fastest and finest mercantile vessel in the world. Her length of 938 feet exceeds that of the Leviathan by thirty-one feet and that of the Majestic by twenty-three feet, but her beam is but ninety-eight feet against the Leviathan's beam of 100 feet and three inches and that of the Majestic of 100 feet and one inch. Thus her gross tonnage of 46,500 is exceeded by 10,000 by either of the other vessels. In fact, her tonnage is approximately 5,000 less than that of the Berengaria, the other great liner lost to Germany as a result of the World war.

But this comparative narrowness of beam is one of the factors which enable the Bremen to make the speed she does. She was built long and narrow along lines designed to afford the least possible resistance to wind and wave, and it is due to her lines that her 120,000-horsepower engines are able to drive her turbines as they do and send her along at the speed she is capable of making—not the speed developed on her trip over, but easily a half, if not a full, knot more.

The new liner is divided into fifteen water-tight compartments and has the very latest and best devices known for assuring the safety of her passengers and crew. She carries twenty-two lifeboats which exceed in size any heretofor constructed. All of them are of the non-capsizable design and equipped with motors, and each is capable of carrying 150 persons. The lifeboats are so hung that they can be lowered automatically without catching on the side of the hull and they are sufficiently high above the boat deck to permit of free passage under them.

The Bremen has accommodations for 2,200 passengers and a crew of 950. The tourist third and third-class cabins are all fitted with hot and cold water and these classes have enclosed promenade decks for use in rough weather. The public rooms, suites de luxe and cabins with private baths are all equipped with the latest appliances for ventilation and light and the safety and comfort of the passengers. She has a night club, a grill room, a bowling alley and a billiard room in addition to the public rooms offered by other great liners, and no other vessel afloat has the like of public halls such as here which stretch 600 feet along her upper decks.

Such is the pride of the German merchant marine which at the end of the war had a sea-going tonnage of but 717,150, including sailing vessels, and now, with the vessels under construction, has an aggregate tonnage in excess of 4,000,000, almost all of which has been constructed since the war. There can be no question but what Germany has staged a magnificent come-back in her merchant marine.

Seven steamships sailed for Europe, Saturday, with an aggregate passenger list of 3,500. Some day's record in a month which is usually referred to as the "dead" month in eastward tourist business!

A New York ice dealer was clubbed to death by four men with baseball bats for underselling his competitors. New Yorkers are becoming mighty sensitive regarding the preservation of business ethics.

A rum-running airplane containing fourteen cases of liquor and two cars were seized and the pilot and six men waiting to receive the stuff were arrested by Michigan state police near Detroit Saturday. Until the planes are made noiseless and their ability to land and take off easily greatly improved, they are hardly going to prove the great aides to crime many have feared.

Prohibition Commissioner Doran has announced plans for the production of 2,000,000 gallons more of medicinal liquor. Isn't that a bit conservative considering the volume in which medicinal whisky is being drained from supply depots and colored water substituted in its stead?

It's hardly probable that any of the seven persons killed at Eaton, Sunday, when the automobile in which they were riding was hit by a train, observed the provision of the Ohio law that it is the duty of those in a vehicle approaching an unguarded crossing to stop, look and listen and, if necessary to get an unobstructed view, to get out and look up and down the track.

It's not so surprising that 23,000,000 Americans cross the Canadian border between the Great lakes and Eastport, Maine, each year, while only 7,000,000 Canadians come down here. We do not offer the "best citizens" of Canada the inducements to come to our side of the line that she offers ours to go up there.

The nineteen-year-old Canadian youth, who went to Chicago from Toronto and achieved some success for two weeks as a burglar, need expect no sympathy from that city's underworld, since he was arrested fifteen minutes after stealing a car for speeding. If there is anything the Chicago criminal element will not stand for it's trying to work two rackets concurrently, holding it to be an utterly unwarranted violation of professional ethics.

Treating Black Eye.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Did you ever have a black eye? If so, you know what a lot of "kidding" your friends gave you.

The tissues of the eyelids and cheek are soft and very sensitive. They overlie a ridge of hard bone. This is the edge of the orbit, the cavity within which is contained the eyeball. The parts in this region are richly supplied with blood vessels.

All the conditions are favorable for trouble. A blow with the fist, running against a door or other hard object, stooping over and striking the corner of a chair—any one of these accidents will pinch the skin and damage the delicate blood vessels.

The tissues are caught between the external object and the sharp ridge of bone. The blood vessel is crushed as it would be with pinchers. There is no wonder the thin wall is broken. When this happens the blood oozes into the soft tissues surrounding it.

An accident of this sort produces the same results we find in the skin anywhere else following a bruise. There is a "black and blue" spot. When this happens in the neighborhood of the eye we have what is commonly called a "black eye."

Doctors give this condition a big name—"ecchymosis of the lids." All this means is that there is a collection of blood in the connective tissues—the soft portions of the eyelids.

The length of time the discoloration will last depends on the amount of blood which has escaped from the damaged vessel. Ordinarily it requires from one to two weeks for absorption to take place. The black and blue stain may continue longer, perhaps for a month.

If you get a blow in the region of the eye it is well to apply cold water almost continuously for an hour or so. This retards the bleeding and reduces the quantity oozing into the tissues. Diluted witch hazel may be used instead of plain water. Lead water and laudanum is a favorite household remedy for black eye.

When all danger of further bleeding has passed massage is helpful. You can see that this should not be applied at once, because it would break the clot and bring on renewed bleeding. But after a couple of days it may be begun. Apply a little cocoa butter or cold cream and gently manipulate the discolored part.

For cosmetic reasons, or to spare yourself ridicule, you may paint the surface with some form of cosmetic. A stick of the grease paint used by actors may be employed to smear the surface and hide the discoloration.

It is unwise to cut the skin or to apply a leach. If the surface of the skin is broken in this way it may become infected and cause a lot of trouble.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

MRS. E. G. Q—What can you advise for constipation? I have just recovered from gastric ulcers.

A—Correct your diet by eating only simple foods not unduly rich in fats and starches. Add stewed fruits to your diet, graham and whole wheat bread. Take a tablespoonful of a refined mineral oil daily. Fresh green vegetables are essential.

R. A. M. Q—What causes gas on the stomach?

A—Indigestion and constipation will cause "gases." When you correct your diet this trouble will disappear. For full information send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

F. N. Q—What causes me to have pains in both my knees?

A—You may be troubled with rheumatism due to some sort of infection present in your system. Try to locate the cause, such as teeth, gums, tonsils, nasal sinuses, constipation or a kidney condition.

J. C. Q—What do you advise for acne?

A—Eat simple food and avoid constipation. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

C. H. Q—What do you advise for nervous weakness?

C. H. Q—I would suggest that you build up your general health and take a good tonic and body builder. For particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question. — Copyright, 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

J. C. Q—Will cigaret smoking stop me from growing?

A—In moderation it might do no harm, but growing children are certainly not benefited by smoking and are certainly damaged by inhaling smoke.

S. C. Q—Is it harmful to eat raw potatoes?

A—In moderation, no. I do not advise it.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper, questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it can not be published in this column Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, in care of this paper.

Editorial Opinion.

PARIS COMES THROUGH.

The French government victory, which assures ratification of the American debt pact, is a triumph for world understanding as well as the completion of an economic bargain. Its influence will be felt in many capitals. It closes one more of the wounds of war.

Poincare, statesman and leader, and Briand, leader and orator, have thus scored one of the major achievements of their long, momentous careers. Probably neither could have won without the other. Failure would have invited a chaotic condition.

The Mellon Berenger agreement for funding France's war debt to America has been pending since 1926. It provides a liberal reduction of the terms on which the money was loaned. Nothing but the conditions of politics prevented its ratification long ago.

Evidently what was needed at Paris was some such inducement as that given by the American congress near the close of the recent session when a resolution was passed offering to waive the immediate collection of the $400,000,000 due on August 1 for war materials sold to France at the close of the war and to let this sum be absorbed into the general war debt if before August 1 the Mellon Berenger pact were ratified.

Hence the government's sudden anxiety to persuade the chamber of deputies to ratify. The practical necessity Poincare was under to win on this point was the measure of his political enemies' opportunity to try to embarrass and perhaps destroy him.

It is difficult for an American familiar with the conditions arguing for ratification to understand the narrow margin by which yesterday morning's the chamber gave the premier the decision he asked. The explanation lies in the confused political situation in the French government which permits Poincare, a minority party member, to hold the parliament leadership. The premier is beset with enemies with power to destroy him if they wish. They accepted the debt issue as a means of ousting his ministry, but lacked the courage—or had the saving sense not—to push their power to its limits.

Ratification of the American agreement, together with that of the British pact, will prove of tremendous benefit to France in business stabilization. It ranks with the fixation of the franc as a steadying process. France now faces the future with new confidence.

Another source of suspicion and resentment is removed by the chamber's close vote. International good will receives another major impetus.—Cleveland Plain Dealer, July 22.

The Paradox of Rest.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

The question often asked, in the realm of emotion, is: How shall we find rest in this world? This great desideratum of humanity is not activity, but quiescence. We speak of the future life, in contrast to this life, as eternal rest.

Is it possible, actually, to find some absolutely fixed point in the universe? The discovery of such a point or location would solve many of the problems of science. Many centuries ago, Archimedes, the wizard of the lever, said: "Give me a fixed position to place one end of my lever, and I will move the world." Today Einstein says: "Give me a stationary condition for my framework of reference, and I can determine absolute velocity. Otherwise, the only sort of velocity we can determine is relative."

Let us go in search of a stationary point in the universe. Suppose I meet you in front of the main entrance of the capitol in Washington, and say: "I will meet you here tomorrow." If you ask me: "Do you mean you will return to the same point in space?" I might carelessly answer, "Certainly."

But I should be wrong.

By tomorrow the capitol has journeyed perhaps a million miles in space. And while the earth has been carrying along the capitol with it, the sun, too, has suffered displacement with reference to the Milky way. And it may well be that the Milky way in turn has undergone a motion, the velocity of which we are unable to detect.

There is no means of knowing either the exact magnitude or the direction of the velocity of the earth. It is passing strange that we are unable to detect this displacement in space. But it is concealed from our observation, because of the smoothness of the motion and because all the objects that constitute our environment are moving together.

When I meet you again tomorrow in front of the main entrance of the capitol, I am not at the same place in space. But I am in the same relative position to the doorway, even although the earth meanwhile may have traveled a million miles through space. When I say I will meet you at the same place I mean same as referred to to some definite frame of reference. In this case, the frame of reference may be taken to the frame of the door of the capitol itself. This is in reality a moving frame of reference but it is rigidly attached to some object fixed on the earth's surface.

We can not choose the sun for our stationary framework, for the sun is not at rest. But why not choose the "fixed stars?" Unfortunately, the term "fixed" here is only a relative term. As long ago as 1727, Bradley pointed out that the so-called "fixed" stars are also in motion.

Until recent years, astronomers were content with another frame of reference, of the following sort. Imagine the mean or average position of all the stars visible to the naked eye. It was customary to accept the conclusion of Herschel, with the modification of the figures due to more accurate later determination, viz: that the entire solar system is moving through space at a rate of about twelve and a half miles a second in the direction of the star, Vega.

Astronomers were content with this frame of reference until within the last two decades. Observations upon the nebulae, which are at vastly remoter distances from us than the stars visible to the naked eye, have revealed extremely rapid motions. A new frame of reference was then hitched, by the imagination of the astronomers, to the average of the nebulae in position. Unfortunately, it now appears as if the solar system were moving through space, with reference to this hypothetical frame of reference, at a speed of something like 400 miles a second.

The entire cosmos, recent investigation shows is drifting away through space and time. The search for the stationary is a fruitless search.—Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.

In Los Angeles.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

Los Angeles, July 23.—The array of restaurants in Los Angeles is a study in culinary clowning. They are fashioned, chiefly in stucco, in a galaxy of absurd what-nots—jails, derby hats, roosters, windmills, ice cream freezers, giant dolls, cliffs reached by ladders and caves through mysterious passages.

Each season brings a fresh crop with equally fresh architectural exaggerations. One is now being rigged up to look like a gallows. The places are supported largely by the army of tourists and prices in comparison to those for the same food in New York are surprisingly low.

The names are selected with the same flair for the unusual. Among those I jotted down are "The Nip and Tuck," "Sip and Bite," "The White Spot," "The Lucky Stop," "Fat Boy Cafe," "The Wel-Dun Waffle Shop," "Hinky Dink," "Lima Joe," "Ye Bull Pen," "Krazy Kitchen," "Cap'n Gown," "Bill's U Like It," "The Cuckoo" and "Promise Tommy's."

One comes upon hot dog, chili and hamburger stands in the most exclusive sections. And, of course, Los Angeles is the cafeteria capital. It would appear half of the population lunches and dines in carry-your-own trays places. Their tempting display of dishes at such trifling cost is worth seeing.

On fashionable boulevards are solid stretches of one dollar and $1.50 chicken dinner places with enormous parking spaces. The dinners are served on bare table tops in paper plates and cups and the diner may order as many helpings of chicken or side dishes as desired.

The health faddist and diet sharks are represented in the raw food, meatless and other such places. In one patrons may hark to a free lecture on dietetics while they eat. In another stereopticon views show the effects on certain foods on certain parts of the anatomy.

However, not all are tricked up in such crazy fashion. "The Victor Hugo," "The Ambassador's Coconut Grove" and "The Montmartre" are as cosmopolitan in cuisine and service as may be found in any world capital. The truth is the average well-to-do Los Angelan rarely dines out. He is a home boy.

The lure of the movies is responsible for many "wonder kiddies" whose mothers have brought them here in the hope of fame and fortune. This morning I saw a set of triplets—little girls of about five as alike as three peas. Their wind-blown crop of hair was the light golden shade of pulled taffy and their eyes a sea blue. I followed them five blocks, walking ahead and casually window shopping to watch them pass in each block. And if I am not mistaken there were several other dodderers puttering about in the same sly fashion.

And, too, there are innumerable trick amusements not seen elsewhere. On one of the boulevards is a huge sign reading: "Ride the Zooms—ten cents." It is a wooden track built in the up and down hill manner of the Coney roller coaster. For a dime one may try it out in his automobile. Then there is the "Pajama Skating Rink," where you skate wearing pajamas.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

The quality of your thinking will determine your state of mind and your peace of mind. The breadth of your interests will determine whether you are going to be a small worrier or whether you are going to live on a level above the trivial anxieties of everyday life. To find tranquillity we must have an enlarged life. To have peace of mind we must live in the presence of great interests and not in the clutter of small fears. Life at best is a series of enlargements—until we are no longer cramped by narrow horizons.

It has been said in these columns before that, however discouraged we may become because of our own failures and the failures of others, however tempted we may be to be pessimistic about human progress, we must keep to the long look realizing that it may take thousands or hundreds of thousands of years to bring about a really fine system of living.

Perhaps President Hoover had this thought in mind when he said in the course of a speech to representatives of the Y. M. C. A.: "I have no fear for the ultimate cause of religion. That springs from depths too great and too certain ever to be wholly defeated. It will purify and profit by experience, and go on to fullness of strength and mission. The pity is the agonies of humanity in the struggle."

It is such a marvelously active world that profound changes take place that either do not attract our notice or fail to hold our sustained attention. In 1911 the rundown Chinese empire crumbled. A nation containing one-fourth of the world's population was left leaderless. Would-be dictators tried to hold tight the reins. Democratic ideas were sown and watered and tended by Dr. Sun. Finally the democratic ideas triumphed. A republic was set up. Civil war broke out. There were two governments for a while—one in north China and one in the south. One government tried to function in Peking, one in Canton. Civil war continued. Armies were mostly bands of bandits, fighting under strong leaders who were more interested in looting the country than in making a stable government. The armies have grown tired. The southern government is no more. China is a republic. The capital is in Peking. Strong men are in the leadership. A schoolmate of the writer, Dr. Kung, is in the cabinet. He is an able and brilliant man. There are still groups of rebels. But China's great fight is over. She will grow in stability.

And so, in our day, one of the greatest changes in the history of the world has come about.

Mrs. Carrie Durr of Marion Learns of Accident

Mrs. Carrie Durr of 288 East Church st., principal of the Davids Street school, is in California where she is visiting relatives. She arrived in California last week just before word was received here of the death of her brother, G. A. Frederick, in an automobile accident near Colusa, Cal., while he was enroute home from a trip along the Pacific coast.

Frederick was with Chester Jensch, a close friend, when Jensch lost control of the car and plunged down a 600-foot ravine. The bodies of the men laid unnoticed for several days before they were discovered by an employe in a state convict camp near Colusa.

Mrs. Durr expects to return to Marion soon to take over her school work.

WAR OPEN TO PEACE WASHINGTON BELIEVES

WASHINGTON, July 28—The war was believed open today for a peaceful settlement of the Sino-Russian dispute over the seizure by the Chinese of the Chinese eastern railway, either through direct negotiation between the disputants or mediation of the powers.

With assurances received by Secretary of State Stimson from Chinese Minister C. T. Wang in China and from both the French and Japanese ambassadors as to Russia, that neither country intended to go to war unless in self defense, he did not look for peace in the orient appeared considerably brighter, according to the state department view.

The broadest field for negotiation will be left open for the Chinese and Soviet Russian diplomats to explore and their methods will be a direct suggestion as to the form it shall take by the four signatories to the Locarno treaty of 1925—Germany, Great Britain, Japan and the United States—for the time being Stimson intimated. He said the dispute might be settled directly by the two countries involved by mediation of the other powers of conciliation and arbitration.

RUSSIA STRUGGLING AGAINST HANDICAP

MOSCOW, July 28—Soviet Russia today is engaged in the greatest diplomatic battle in the history of the red republic.

The soviets are anxious to avoid war against China. It was emphasized in official quarters despite the government's rejection of France's mediation offer.

The Moscow government is now attempting to gain through diplomacy all the fruits that might have been acquired through the use of arms.

But the soviet union is waging a struggle against severe odds as it has no European or Asiatic allies to give it diplomatic support. America has never recognized the Moscow government, diplomatic relations with England are suspended temporarily while Japan and Germany are holding aloof in the Far East clash of Sino-Russian interests.

Russia is prepared to arbitrate the dispute with China over seizure of the Chinese Eastern railway, but China must first comply with preliminary conditions to mediation, it was emphatically stated in an official communique from the soviet foreign office.

The statement was made in rejecting the offer of France to arbitrate the dispute. The offer was politely declined but characterized as 'without object' as China 'steadfastly refuses to comply with preliminary conditions for mediation, chief of which is restoration of a legal base for continued relations between the two nations.'"

To all the mark of the American set at Curtiss field, California, the St. Louis robin must still be flying at 4:01 this afternoon in order to establish a new mark it must remain aloft for another hour and until 7:01.

Just a Start

But Jacobs and O'Brine with the world's top fame lasting trophy, is far from their whirring propellers' blades apparently are not going to be content to stop after setting a new record, but endurance flight experts predict tonight, and it is the general belief here that the St. Louis ship will continue on its 24th hour mark at least.

Arrangements have been made for the pilots to take their lunches at St. Louis Robin at each St. Louis business district at 4:01 when the plane will be equipped with a whistle blast, shrieking sirens and the cheers of thousands to flag skyward to the downtown district will signal the microphones across.

TWO STOWAWAYS ABOARD BREMEN

NEW YORK, July 28—Yes there were two stowaways on the Bremen in fact it proved two stowaways.

Hugh Pater of Danzig, stowed away in the usual manner but a compatriot Adolph Cuhrt put his pistol presence to the ship's flight for two days. Then it was discovered his flight was only for the trip from Southampton to Cherbourg and he left just skip.

He was shut up in the ship's hospital for the remainder of the voyage.

ARMY OFFICERS' "PARTY" PROBED

Said To Have Resulted in Death of Young Lieutenant

DETROIT, July 28—Investigation of a party, the effects of which are said to have caused the death of Lieut. Owen Eugene Wilcox, 26, following his was resumed by a military board of inquiry at Selfridge field today.

The party was held last Friday night at Belvidere Out, according to reports and Lieut. Wilcox was one of several officers who went to that town in a specially-chartered bus. The young Indianapolis lieutenant was found dead in bed Saturday morning and Capt. Floyd Ballentine, chief medical officer of the post, pronounced death due to acute alcoholism.

Lieut. Wilcox was one of the many reserve officers from all parts of the sixth corps area who come to Selfridge field annually for training during the summer.

For signalling to airplanes at night a New York man has invented rows of electric lights set in the ground to radiate like wheel spokes from a central point and controlled by switches.

OFFICIALS OF COUNTY JOIN ROBBERY PROBE

Prosecutor and Sheriff Check Up on Looting of Palace Theater Safe

County officials yesterday joined the investigation of the $1,500 Palace theater safe robbery early Sunday morning in which a burglar manipulated two difficult safe combinations and made his escape with more than $1,000 in cash and several checks.

County Prosecutor Fred Douthett, assisted by Sheriff John J. Francis were making a check-up on the situation today. It is expected that several witnesses will be questioned in connection with the robbery within a few days, as several names are now in the hands of these officials.

No arrests have been made but the photographers fingerprints and partials which have been found on a bottle about the safe Sunday morning. Investigation from every angle are being conducted by J. J. Hiebner, manager of the Palace and Marion theaters here said today.

No more information in regard to the checkup will be learned today as it was stated by J. W. Hoppe was not in Marion.

Theater officials were still under the impression today that the burglar remained in the theater Saturday night after the last show. Three exit doors were found open Sunday morning but no trace of the robber entrance could be found. The door to the manager's office appeared to have been opened with a knife, as part of the door had been whittled away to make a larger crack along the side of the casing near the lock.

GOVERNOR ASKED TO PARDON COLE

...Cooper will send Attorney General Gilbert Bettman to Joliet to conduct an investigation.

Attend Conference

The attorney general, a number of members of his staff and members of the governor's staff attended the conference between the governor and the Cole delegation.

From reports that have reached me the clemency plea based upon the conditions of his parole and his conduct has been all that could be asked," Judge McClellan wrote Governor Cooper. "I believe that he should be restored to citizenship and I am now asking that you give him a pardon."

Silent Salesmen!

A seeming paradox—yet as true a description as we can give!

You call; they come—

You want this or that; they have it—

You select as they point in silence—

You dismiss; they go—

Yet they speak not a word—

Classified Ads in The Star are "speechless salesmen!" And—

Schubert Music Club Meets

Music from the old and new composers was a feature on the program of the Schubert Music club, the senior organization of Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence, held Monday morning at the Lawrence studio, 610 East Center st.

After a short business meeting the following program was presented: "Gavotte Modern" by Carl Moter, Juanita Kimmel; "Solfeggietto," Bach, and "To the Rising Sun," Perjussen, Melba Burbaugh; "Fantasia in D Minor," Mozart, Robert Knauss, and a duo, "Andante and Scherzo," Mozart, Kathryn Schneider and Jona Zieg.

As July 28 marks the seventeenth anniversary of the death of John Sebastian Buch, music composer, sketches of his life were read by Miss Lawrence and Helen Burns. The program closed with a theoretical drill led by Genevieve Doering and Robert Knauss.

Miss Lucille Worden of Findlay was a guest at the meeting.

Miss Mary Esther Woy Weds Lynn Bert Crosby

Miss Mary Esther Woy, of 1518 East 82nd st., Cleveland, and Lynn Bert Crosby, of 4701 South Kedzie av., Chicago, were married in a simple home wedding at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Woy, Girard av. The Rev. G. A. Whitlock, pastor of Wesley M. E. church, read the ring service in the presence of classmates and relatives of both the bride and bridegroom.

Preceding and following the cere-mony, the Triangle Trio played appropriate wedding music, including "Sweet Mystery of Life and "I Love You Truly." The bride entered the room on the arm of her father. Her dress was of white silk crepe with trimmings of lace and her arm bouquet was of pink roses. Miss Ruth Gallen, of Cleveland, her bridesmaid, in pink crepe with a corsage of pink roses, and Harvey Woy, the best man, followed.

Honored guests at the wedding and breakfast that followed, were Mrs. Frank Beckwith, of Kent, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs Woy, her parents, and Mr. and Mrs Crosby and daughter, Pearl, of Cleveland, parents of the bridegroom. The bridal table was centered with a wedding cake decorated in pink and white. Her class mates of the class of '28, Mt. Sinai hospital, Cleveland, were seated at the bride's table. Small tables were placed for the other guests.

Out-of town guests included Miss Maxine Woy, of Champaigne, Ill., Mrs Elffie McFarland, of Everett, Pa., Mrs Harry Stratton, Mrs. Joy Beckwith, Mrs. John Beckwith and Miss Mary Beckwith, of Kent, Mr and Mrs. Leonard Jacobs and daughters, Lucy, Betty and Jane, of Akron, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Grimes, Delaware, and the members of her graduating class.

Mr. Crosby is a graduate of Cleveland high school and Case School of Applied Science. He is a member of Phi Pi Phi, social fraternity and Eta Kappa Nu, honorary electrical engineering fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Crosby left on a camping trip through Ohio and Tennessee, after which they will be at home at the Blanchester, 6210 Kimbark av., Chicago.

The First Thought
in modern business
A business man without a telephone on his desk would feel "lost."
In like manner a woman who conducts her business of managing a home without a 'phone is handicapped in innumerable ways. She is tied down to the routine of home-keeping. She loses hundreds of precious minutes daily and takes countless unnecessary steps.
The many pleasures and conveniences of a 'phone make it more than worthwhile. Install one today and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

He last saw the world outside of prison walls in 1870 and will see electric street cars, automobiles, elevated roads, skyscrapers, all for the first time.

What shall we all see when we come back, a hundred million years hence, if we do come?

Science says the earth will live, safely inhabitable, for hundreds of millions of years more.

What shall we have accomplished in as little as 20 million years, when our civilization will be as old as that of the ants is now?

TALKS TO CHILDREN ON FOREIGN LANDS

A. L. Flude Shows Chinese and Japanese Clothing to Junior Towners

Junior Town was all afutter yesterday morning at the meeting at 10 o'clock. Not only were there five policemen and five members of the fire department to be appointed, but there was also a surprise program.

A. L. Flude, who is with the Loar Independent Chautauqua company, gave the boys and girls a glimpse into foreign lands and the lives of Chinese and Japanese boys and girls.

Gorgeous clothing of these countries were displayed and worn by the boys and girls.

The wardrobes were brought to this country by Mr. Flude, who is a traveler, and include the different styles that are worn by the various classes at the proper hours during the day.

Chief of Police Winifred W. has appointed Betty Jane Williams, Ruth Peterson, Mary K. Miles, Harry Winters and Alice Jean Schell as his policemen.

Delmore Ault, fire chief, announced Margaret Young, Myron Oldham, Harold Moffet and Kathleen Kerns as the members of the Junior Town fire department.

This morning T. J. McFarland, fire chief of Marion, and R. G Smith, platform superintendent of the Chautauqua, were scheduled to talk to the boys and girls. Wednesday morning a second surprise program will be given and on Thursday there will be a festive circus parade in the east end of town.

Attendance at Junior Town leaped from 35 Sunday to 70 at the meeting yesterday morning.

White Fire"

An Absorbing New Emotional Serial of Love and Life on the Stage

BY LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

...e had passed She ... with frank in ...an ce to know all ... and making no ... her chagrin till the ... the corner of the ... her hotel Then she ... box o the light of ...

...during to know, of ... ce I know already ... rely If it wasn't ... sure picked it out for ... I rule am no end ... n for everything ... and put del berate ... ... the ruefully added ... I mean envious Some ... h have all the luck I mean jealous too ... forgive Jenny—or ... forget you'

The bright maw of her hotel took the girlish figure at a gulp but at the last instant she in turn gave Tabor something to remember her by, a flashing smile over shoulder that was to be to him a faceless souvenir and danger signal

He didn't need to call up his Congreve for assurance that he had left behind him a charming fury

That was not his fault, perhaps it was lamentable all the same, Mona's enmity could hardly harm him in any material way But that it bracketed Jennifer with him he dared no, forget. That was another and a serious matter

The Europe to which Tabor turned for sanctuary—that Europe which the restless and romantic American adores because the magic of his extravagances has made it over so largely in his own image, seemed curiously rapid and unattracting curiously impoverished of the charms of those yesteryears too well remembered

Wherever he turned, Tabor met ghosts that walked old ways with wistful eyes for him What was less endurable, he met at every other turning memories quick in the flesh of friends and acquaintances well meaning folk who were visibly smitten with consternation to find that they had remembered just in time not to ask how June was and what hotel the two of them were stopping at and who were subsequently solicitous to bear in mind that the poor thing's life was blasted and it was only common kindness to ask him to dinners at which the mere mention of Philadelphia was taboo

These and all their ways he fled in the end to join Arlington on his cordial invitation by telegram in Budapest, where the perverted humor which animated that entrepreneur was keeping him busy contracting for the entire future output of every Magyar dramatist of average visibility not Arlington explained to Tabor that he looked to realize bankers profits on his investments, but merely that it amused him to corner a market which his brother producers back in New York, gone Molnar-mad to the last man had come to scorn upon that year as on the Promised Land

And for weeks thereafter Tabor had his being in a strange world, in garish and nefarious ways where, as a familiar of one who was a world known fountain head of American royalties and salaries, he was courted by the women and fawned upon by the men of half the theaters of middle Europe, Italy and France

This palled too soon Tabor was ...n to let Arlington sail to the semi-royal state that was made his wherever he went whether he relished it or not, and almost contentedly lingered several more weeks in London, for no particular reason other than because he found there as he had nowhere on the continent, as the Anglo-Saxon male is apt to a feeling of spiritual freedom and a social atmosphere of laissez faire no less comfortable to live with and because he was utterly unanxious to see New York again while it held for him nothing but a hollow home Jennifer's engagement in Minneapolis was not to end before Labor day

Tabor had planned at the outset to return just one week later Most of the lost night at sea he wore out trudging the starboard deck or leaning on its rail watching the lights of Long Island wink across the waste on such a reach of impatience and insecurity as schoolboys know in the throes of their first sweetheartings He was altogether unconscious of having found anything that he had gone abroad in quest of not knowing what he sought or indeed that he ought anything but forbidden rest by a gnawing sense of lacks He had yet to find the solace of that great and immortal truth which Leonard Merrick once enunciated that man renews his youth as often as he falls in love That self confidence which Arlington and Mona with their lures motives and before them Jennifer had endeavored to stifle him Tabor still was unprepared to know His mind that was less a mental machine than a jelly of semi articulate emotion ringed like a pendulum between the extremes of To morrow! and Tomorrow?"

He found what he bitterly told himself he might have expected to find disappointment waiting at his door On top of a heap of accumulated mail lay an envelope bearing the advertisement of a hotel in a small upstate town of New York and a special delivery stamp

O Tabby dear!—I'm heartsick and tired sick! I try to believe it's good enough for the likes of me to have you're back and somehow it is in a way but goodness only knows when I'll see you and New York again I feel already as if I'd been in exile a couple of centuries and won't know my way around any more than you will know me when I do get back if ever And everything's gone as wrong as it possibly could sound to me!

I don't know what's happened to the Purer Perfection piece Mr Arlington promised to give me a part in, I don't see anything about it in the papers and Mr Arlington wired me the day before Labor day to join this company in Buffalo instead of coming on to New York So instead of a week or two of rest and then a most exciting time rehearsing in town with everybody all worked up over the opening of the season and first nights going off all around like fireworks, which is what I'd been living in hopes of all summer long I had to stop off at Buffalo and pitch in rehearsing to take the place of a girl who hadn't made good in this new piece I might have expected something of the sort would happen, of course—sound thing anybody who came of theatrical people would know better than to expect anything in the theater to work out as planned, wouldn't you?—but I was foolish enough to think maybe things would be different and go right this once

We are doing a play by Cuthbert Stevens The Rink and as soon as it gets whipped into shape were supposed to bring it into New York But it's an English piece—maybe you saw it in London it had a good run there they say—and Mr Stevens who is with us, has been changing and tinkering with it to make it more the sort of thing that goes with American audiences but doesn't seem able to satisfy himself He rewrites a few scenes almost every night with the result that we start a new rehearsing from new sides every other day! Burchell Brown is staging the piece, and he and Stevens get along together just like two rattlesnakes Altogether it's a grand party!

Mona is with us has been with the show ever since it went to rehearsal playing a comedy ingenue part But she's in love with some one she won't tell me who and is terribly fussed about it and upstage most of the time anyway because of the hit she made with the critics in that piece that had a few minutes run in New York last spring So she sent the company to me she might be

I'm not very happy, Tabby I don't think I'm doing very good work though Mr Brown doesn't find much more fault with me than with anybody else in the cast. But it's mostly something else that's bothering me Maybe you can guess You are clever you know at reading between the lines and I know you must have noticed my letters haven't been—well, natural I suppose for some time But I can't write about it I only wish there was some chance in sight of my seeing you soon again so we could have a long talk I do want some one to tell me what I ought to do And there isn't anybody like you

Oh dear! we do make funny muddles of our lives don't we Tabby?

I'm afraid it's a slim chance though our meeting any time soon There's a rumor going round the company now that we may be sent I into Chicago for a few weeks run before we finally come in to New York—if that ever happens

Pray for me, Tabby—I need all the help I can get.

Bless you!

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M LEWIS

TODAY was Tuesday I had a long time and thought about what happened to the Sunday school supper I didn't understand how it could of happened or where he got the things Then I thought about the cave and about the doctor

When I had let Jubilee down and was out milking the dammed brutes I said the thing for us to do was to forget about the cave till we had found the doctor, and then all send they would like to have a look in the cave but they said I was right Then Hopper butted in and said he thought we ought to explore the cave first because if we found the doctor first the doctor might do something to his leg that would keep him laid up a long time and he couldn't go to the cave We hadn't thought about that Then he began to cry and said that he didn want us to find the doctor because he was afraid That got us all feeling bad and we all got around him while he was setting on the bucket and we patted him on the back and offered him everything we had in our pockets but he wouldn't take anything He is sure a good kid

Then I had to take the milk in the house and strain it and while I was feeding my face the front door bell rang and my mother went to the door and who should come in but the Sunday school super and he spoke to everyone but wouldn't set down and he said he had come early so as to see my father before he went to work and my father looked at me and I looked at him and wondered what I had been doing and then he told my father something very distressing had happened and he pulled the ladies underwear out of his pocket and held it up and said to my father 'Have you seen these before

My father gave a look and said 'I decline to incriminate myself Where'd you get 'em' My ant said 'I am going to leave the room!' and got up and marched out insulted Then the super told about them out in Sunday school and said he was going to get at the bottom of it if it took all time My father pointed it out of it and said This is the bottom of it I know that much My mother smil I and everyone but the super laughed Then my father took off stern and said to me If I had anything to do with it and I said I didn't and slunk out.

Hobie was watching for me and said she was going to spend the whole day pushing to every doctor in town Then we told her how Hopper felt about it and she said she would wait a day It would be awful if we found him and he sawed Hopper's leg off We went fishing with liver and caught one cat

Love's Awakening

The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affections

BY ADELE GARRISON

Princess Olina's Request for the Newspapers Arouses Madge

PRINCESS OLINA'S appearance at so early an hour at the door of the apartment would alone have aroused my attention for she is not an early riser But when in addition I overheard her queer colloquy with the night bellboy I knew that I must take cognizance of the incident, even though it laid me open to the accusation of unmannerly meddling

Perhaps I can help I said in my most matter-of-fact tones as I heard her tell the boy he must get something she wanted and that she did not care what it cost, for she wanted it at once

Tom the boy—or rather man—who at night combines the functions of telephone operator bellboy and elevator man at the hotel turned a relieved face to me He is not as resourceful as Purnell, the highly efficient and amusing colored boy who had helped me so signally upon the night of my announcement dinner, but he is honest and most obliging though a trifle stolid He plainly was most distressed at being obliged to refuse a request from a guest

You see Mis' Graham it's like this he explained When Mister Allen the old night clerk was here I could get off any time to do an errand for a guest Had do my work for me But this new man is terrible cranky with me and especially this last week or two He wants me on the job every minute'

I could have told him why the clerk wanted him on the job every minute It was because he hinted if wished to be free to aid Mr Underwood and the detective who I knew was now on duty every night, when the expected attempt upon Prince George should be made But of course this was outside Tom's ken

'This must be a distinctly second class hotel Princess Olina said witheringly her nose in the air when one cannot send out for so simple a thing as a newspaper at any hour during the night'

That depends upon what one means by first class my dear I told her purposely making my voice a bit patronizing This is not a fashionable hotel, but an old fashioned residential house many of whose patrons have lived here for years It is distinctly first class of its kind but you cannot expect the multiple service of the very expensive houses"

I turned to Tom plainly uneasy to return to his elevator

How long before a boy who can go will be here?' I asked

I can go myself ma'am just as soon as the first boy comes on at six thirty That's not quite an hour from now

'In that the very first chance? Olina struck in impatiently

'I'm sorry ma'am yes I'll like to go but——

'Come back at 6 40 then, she said Here'

She thrust a bill into his hand

'Get me copies of all the papers' she ordered Then as I my hurried way she looked at me brilliantly, but with something hostile in her gaze

I am sorry to have disturbed you she said icily

You haven't I said quickly and stared at her, although I secretly was annoyed at her slighting manner I would not have interfered only I was so surprised at your being up so early that I was afraid you might be ill and need something I could get for you

No, I am not ill' she answered But I couldn't sleep, and I am so anxious to see the newspapers

She did not name either of the two reasons I knew she had been waiting to see the newspapers Instead she looked at me again this time with something wistful in her expression which I promptly interpreted

Why don't you come up with me to the roof? I asked It's a wonderful morning I'll wait for you while you dress But wrap up well

'I'd love to go up with you she said promptly And I won't keep you long I can dress rapidly But—won't I miss the papers when Tom brings them?

'No, for I shall tell him to bring them directly to us on the roof' I told her I'll telephone him while you're dressing

She made no further reference to the papers nor of course did I But though she chatted with me with apparent interest I saw that she was plainly distrait and closely watched the door which opened on the stairway from the roof

When Tom at last appeared, papers in hand she rushed over to him as eagerly as if she were a schoolgirl entrant for some prize instead of a royal princess And when she had received the papers from him she rushed back to the seat beside me muttered a hasty "Pardon!" as she handed me three of the papers and then swiftly turned to a certain inside page of the sheet she had selected

Then I heard a little gasp of joy Oh, it's here! It's here!' she cried

ding to know, of e I know already ally If it wasn't have picked it out for I truly am no end for everything' and put deliberate

the ruefully added I mean serious Some ly have all the luck I mean jealous too - forgive Jenny—or forget you"

The bright maw of her hotel took the girlish figure at a gulp but at the last instant she in turn gave Tabor some hint to remember her by a flashing smile over shoulder that was to be to him a faithless sojourn and danger signal

He didn't need to call up his Congreve for assurance that he had left behind him a charming furv

That was not his fault perhaps it was lamentable all the same Mona's enmity could hardly harm him in any material way But that it bracketed Jennifer with him he dared not forget. That was another and a serious matter

The Europe to which Tabor turned for sanctuary—that Europe which the restless and romantic American adores because the magic of his extravagances has made it over so largely in his own image, seemed to lously vapid and unattractive curiously impoverished of the charms of those yesteryears too well remembered

Wherever he turned Tabor met ghosts that walked old ways with wistful eyes for him What was less endurable he met at every other turning memories quick in the flesh of friends and acquaintances well meaning folk who were visibly smitten with consternation to find that they had remembered just in time not to ask how June was and what hotel the two of them were stopping at and who were subsequently studious to bear in mind that the poor thing's life was blasted and it was only common kindness to ask him to dinners at which the mere mention of Philadelphia was taboo

These and all their ways he fled in the end to join Arlington on his cordial invitation by telegram in Budapest where the perverted humor which animated that entrepreneur was keeping him busy contracting for the entire future output of every Magyar dramatist of even e visibility not Arlington explained to Tabor that he looked to realize bunkers profits on his investments, but merely that it amused him to corner a market which his brother producers back in New York, gone Molnar-mad to the last man, had come to yearn upon, that year as on the Promised Land

And for weeks thereafter Tabor had his being in a strange world, in garish and pernicious ways where, as a familiar of one who was a world known fountain head of American revalues and salaries, he was courted by the women and fawned upon by the men of half the theaters of middle Europe Italy and France

This palled too soon Tabor was fain to let Arlington sail to the semi royal state that was made his wherever he went while he relished it or not, and almost contentedly lingered several more weeks in London for no particular reason other than because he found there as he had nowhere on the continent, as the Anglo-Saxon male is apt to a feeling of spiritual freedom and a social atmosphere of laissez faire no less comfortable to live with and because he was utterly unanxious to see New York again while it held for him nothing but a hollow home Jennifer's engagement in Minneapolis was not to end before Labor day

Tabor had planned at the outset to return just one week later Most of the last night at sea he wore out prudging the starboard deck or loitering on its rail watching the lights of Long Island wink across the waste on such a ruck of impatience and insecurity as schoolboys know in the throes of their first sweetheartings He was altogether unconscious of having found anything that he had gone abroad in quest of or knowing what he sought or indeed that he sought anything but forbidden rest in a gnawing sense of lacks He had yet to find the source of that great and immortal truth which Leonard Merrick once enunciated that man renews his youth as often as he falls in love. That self confidence which Arlington and Mona with their divers motives and before them Jennifer had endeavored to give him, Tabor still was unprepared to know His mind that was less a mental machine than a jelly of semi articulate emotion ranged like a pendulum between the extremes of "Tomorrow! and "Tomorrow?"

He found what he bitterly told himself he might have expected to find disappointment waiting at his door On top of a heap of accumulated mail lay an envelope bearing the advertisement of a hotel in a small upstate town of New York and a special delivery stamp

O Tabby dear!—I'm heartsick and friendsick I try to believe it's good enough for the likes of me to know you're back and somehow it is in a way but gee whiz you don't know when I'll see you and New York again I feel literally as if I'd been in exile a couple of centuries and won't know my way around any more than you will know me when I do get back if ever! And everything's gone as wrong as it possibly could you'd think

I don't know what's happened to the Hertz Pemberton put on Mr Arlington promised to give me a part in, I don't see anything about it in the papers and Mr Arlington warned me the day before Labor Day to join this company in Buffalo instead of coming on to New York So instead of a week or two of rest and then a nice setting him rehearsing in town with everybody all worked up over the opening of the season and first nights going off all around like fireworks which is what I'd been living in hopes of all summer long I had to stop off at Buffalo and pitch in rehearsing to take the place of a girl who hadn't made good in this new piece I might have expected something of the sort would happen of course—good thing anybody who came of theatrical people should know better than to expect anything in the theater to work out as planned wouldn't you?—but I was foolish enough to think maybe things would be different and so right this once

We are doing a play by Cuthbert Stevens The Ring and as soon as it gets whipped into shape were supposed to bring it into New York But it's an English piece—maybe you saw it in London it had a good run there they say—and Mr Stevens who is with us has been changing and tinkering with it to make it more the sort of thing that goes with American audiences but doesn't seem able to satisfy himself He rewrites a few scenes almost every night with the result that we start a new rehearsing from new sides every other day I Burchell Brown is staging the piece and he and Stevens get along together just like two rattlesnakes Altogether it's a grand party!

Mona is with us has been with the show ever since it went to rehearsal playing a comedy ingenue part But she's in love with some one she won't tell me who and is terribly fussed about it and upstage most of the time anyway because of the hat she made with the critics in that piece that had a few minutes run in New York last spring So she sent the company to me she might be

I'm not very happy, Tabby I don't think I'm doing very good work though Mr Brown doesn't find much more fault with me than with anybody else in the cast But it's mostly something else that's bothering me Maybe you can guess You are clever you know at reading between the lines and I know you must have noticed my letters haven't been—well natural I suppose for some time But I can't write about it I only wish there was some chance in sight of my seeing you soon again, so we could have a long talk I do want some one to tell me what I ought to do And there isn't anybody like you

Oh dear! we do make funny muddles of our lives don't we Tabby?

I'm afraid it's a slim chance though our meeting any time soon There's a rumor going round the company now that we may be rushed into Chicago for a few weeks run before we finally come in to New York—if that ever happens

Pray for me, Tabby—I need all the help I can get.

Bless you!

FEAR TWO PERISH IN BOAT COLLISION

"Champagne Bath" Girl Aids in Rescue of 18 in Lake Accident

CHICAGO July 27—Of 23 men and women who were hurled into Lake Michigan near the navy pier when two speed boats tearing through the water at 40 miles an hour crashed together and sank, two men were unaccounted for today and it was feared they had drowned.

The missing two were Leo Spess, kind Toulers N Y and David Cohn Chicago

Volunteer life savers in small boats saved all the others On of the rescued Mrs. Esther McColey was knocked unconscious and is in a serious condition

The colliding boats were river taxis in a passenger service which was started yesterday between the Wrigley building and the Daily News plaza

Four rescues were credited to Miss Joyce Hawley famous for her champagne bath at a party given by Earl Carroll in New York a few years ago The former chorus girl in a small boat with friends hauled the floundering victims over the gunwales

KALAMAZOO Mich—Just what peculiar quirk in the mind of Eugene Burgess a 53 year old taxicab driver caused him to beat to death Mrs Etta L Fairchild inmate of an old people's home here is something that physicians rather than police will have to solve

Until the night of the slaying Burgess was never known to have committed a vicious deed in his life

Burgess and his wife according to Burgess' confession had invited Mrs Fairchild to have dinner at their home and killed her while she ate

On that night he told officers he beat Mrs Fairchild's head with a lead pipe and hammer and then to hide certain of her death tied weights to her body and dropped it into a cistern in the rear of his home

Burgess said that Mrs Fairchild had cast a queer spell over his daughter Eugenia and that the aged woman could make you have any kind of license

According to Burgess' story to the prosecutor he believed Mrs Fairchild was a witch and could kill people with evil spells she wished to do so He maintains he did the right thing in killing her and that it was 'either her life or ours

WICKERSHAM PLAN SCORED BY BISHOP

Cannon Pronounces Dry Law Proposal "Premature and "Defeatist"

WASHINGTON July 22—The professional prohibitionists and reform organizations who usually see eye to eye on all questions affecting the Volstead law and its enforcement gave further indication today of being split the proverbial 10 ways over George W Wickersham's suggestion for modifying the existing prohibition set up

While the Anti Saloon league the Methodist board of prohibition temperance and public morals and lesser organizations have given cautious and tacit approval of Wickersham's proposal to take the federal government out of the business of trying local lawbreakers not a word has come from James Cannon Jr the militant leader of southern Methodistism

Termed Defeatist

After waiting 30 days Bishop Cannon pronounced Wickersham's program today to be premature and defeatist in intent and hazy and uncertain as to scope even though he approved of that portion of the famous letter which seemingly called upon the individual states to better cooperate with the federal government in enforcement

It is all very well and proper Bishop Cannon said to compel the states to assist the government in enforcing the Volstead law but if any state fails to do so then the federal government must declare that it will maintain the constitution inviolate and that it will appropriate whatever amount of money is necessary to furnish a sufficient force of suitable men to secure effective enforcement even if it shall require $100 000 000 or more annually"

JURORS INDICT MAN AT KENTON

Return Verdict of Manslaughter at Trial of Trell Williams

KENTON, July 23—Trell Williams of Kenton, was indicted on a charge of manslaughter Monday by a secret session of the Hardin County grand jury under the direction of Prosecutor M B Underwood.

The case grew out of an automobile accident on Sunday night, July 7 in which one girl Mary Rudasil, 19 was fatally hurt and three other persons, including Williams, were injured

Naomi Shark 18, and Harve Columber all of Kenton, sustained minor injuries. Williams, driver of the car, was dismissed from the McKitrick hospital yesterday having received treatment for serious scalp wounds and cuts and bruises

According to officials the tragic mishap occurred north of Kenton on the Dunkirk pk while the party was enroute from Lake Idlewild The two girls were being given a 'lift' into the city from Lake Idlewild summer resort

Sideswiping with an auto wrecking car the Williams car careened from the highway struck a tree at the side of the highway and skidded many feet into a truck patch

Miss Rudasil died a few hours 'ater in McKitrick hospital from a fractured skull triple fracture of the jaw bone and deep cuts on the neck and shoulder

During the secret session which continued throughout Monday, eleven cases were considered nine of them being previously considered by the grand jury In these cases the persons were reindicted

The second indictment returned Monday was that against Wilbert F Roland charging him with drawing uttering and delivering a false check

Twenty two witnesses were questioned by the grand jury while 24 had been summoned to testify Frank H Lue of Patterson was foreman of the jury Formal report was made before Judge Hamilton E Hoge at 4 30 o'clock Monday

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Lutherans 9, Presbyterians 1
Forest Lawn 9, Reformed 0. (Forfeit)
Asbury 7, United Brethren 2
Lee Street 9, Christians 5.

BY BOB ELLIOTT

A RACE that cannot possibly be decided until the last day of the schedule is now claiming the interest of fans of the Second Church league. Asbury and Lutherans both won last night and are in a tie for the lead thanks to a protest which the Lutherans were given over the United Brethren team. Lee Street is in third place, a half game behind the leaders.

The pennant will be decided when Lee Street and Lutherans and Asbury and Lutherans meet in the closing games of the season.

Easy Win

Asbury had little trouble while registering its eighth victory over United Brethren yesterday, 7 to 3. Johnny Cook was too much for the losers, clamping down on them every time the semblance of a rally got under way.

Central Christians blew up in the sixth inning of their all-important clash with Lee Street and lost 9 to 5.

BEST BET IN YEARS IS WHAT BASEBALL CRITIC SAYS OF A'S

Connie Has Assembled One of Greatest Machines in Diamond Annals

BY FRANK G. MENKE

THE Athletics are somewhat like aluminum. They can be bent but they won't crack.

Since early May when they galloped heroically into a goodly lead in the American league sweepstakes, the prediction has been reiterated: "Watch 'em crack!"

Those who have followed the injunction have acquired a sad case of strained optics. Occasionally the Mackmen have tossed off a combat or two while the Yanks and the Browns, by winning at the same time, have crept up a bit.

But it meant little.

The Athletics merely were bending a bit.

There was no cracking.

And they won't crack!

Connie Mack has put together a team that is sturdy in every department of play. There isn't a weak spot in the entire line-ups. Everywhere there is strength and speed, all of it co-ordinated by the genius of the Macklan leadership. At bat, in the field, on the mound, those Athletics have power.

Steamrollers!

And when a team has that, it is an aggregation destined to steamroll as opposition.

The Athletics should have won the fling last year had it not been for a bit of "greenness" through the first two months. It wasn't until July.

KAPPAS AND SHOVEL TEAM PLAY BENEFIT CONTEST AT LINCOLN

Commercial Loop Tilt Next Wednesday Helps Name Champ

ONE small dime, folks, is going to get you into what will probably develop into the ding-dongest recreation ball game that will be played all year in any of the four organized leagues. The time is 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening and the place is Lincoln park and those concerned are the Kappas and the Shovel A. A., two good ball teams who are seriously interested in winning a league championship.

The small admission charge is for the purpose of sending two or more children to the Y. M. C. A. camp near Hepburn, O., for a two weeks period. All the proceeds of the game will go towards this purpose with each of the contesting teams choosing a girl to attend and if the gate receipts are large enough the commission will choose the others.

The game itself will be watched with extreme interest by followers of the Eagles, the present pace setters in the Commercial league. The Kappas

ALL-STARS CAPTURE THIRD FROM LOCALS

Mansfield Nine Wins Series from Independents by Taking Three Straight

After holding the Mansfield All-Stars scoreless for the first seven innings, Rube Gruber, hurling for the Marion Independents, threw away a three run lead and the All Stars took their third straight victory of the five game series from the local team, 4 to 3 in ten innings. The All Stars had registered wins in the first two games of the series.

The Independents scored once in the third and then took a commanding lead in the fifth when C. Messenger drove out a home run with Fido Robbins aboard. The home team tied the game up in the eighth on a few hits mixed with a couple of errors. The winning run came in the tenth on a double and home run. The circuit clout was a tremendous drive that allowed the batter to reach home before Niemeyer had started to return the ball to the infield.

Following the game a picnic supper was served to the local players and their families by the All Stars. About 60 from Marion attended the supper and game.

KENTON, July 3—All roads will lead to Kenton and the adjacent Lake Idlewild park Thursday evening as the local management stages the first open-air boxing exhibition at an arena which will seat more than 3,000 fans. Thirty-two rounds of boxing, headlined by the ten-round fray of T. N. T. Gibbons of Cleveland and Mickey Fedor of Pittsburgh, will be given for the benefit of enthusiasts. They will weight in at 160 pounds.

The eight-round semi-final will be between Mel French of Philadelphia and Rough House Ritz of Steubenville, at 180 pounds. Jackie Burns of Akron will meet Young Rooney of Youngstown in a six-round bout at 130 pounds while two four-round pre-

SPORT STUFF

BY BOB ELLIOTT

THE Epworth No. 1-Trinity Baptist game scheduled for tonight has been postponed at the request of the latter team following the death of Mitchell Ward, their popular young outfielder, who passed away yesterday afternoon following an illness that started last Friday.

Ward was one of the most popular young players in the city and one of the most promising. He had played for two seasons with the Lee Street team in the second league before he started this year with the Baptists. His fine work in the outfield so far this season is one of the main factors in the Baptists' sensational play in the league.

The Epworth team plays Asbury a practice game at Lincoln Park in place of the scheduled clash.

Our bouquet of roses for yesterday's games will go to Johnny Marshall, Lee Street shortstop, whose hitting was instrumental in defeating the Christians and keeping his team in the pennant chase. He reached base four times, once on a walk, once on an error and twice by hits, one a homer to right. He drove in four runs and scored two more which was just enough to defeat the Christians.

AN incident occurred at the Lee Street-Christian game which if it is allowed to go much further is going to disrupt the second league as well as affect play in some of the other leagues.

A certain player used abusive language to the umpire when he objected to the manner in which the ump was calling balls and strikes. The umpire evidently ordered him out of the game and when he didn't go the game was allowed to proceed as per usual. When an umpire orders a man out of a game he should remember that it is his privilege to forfeit the game to the other team after giving the offending team a chance to get the player causing the trouble off the field.

SCHMELING AND JACK BATTLE IN CHICAGO?

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 23—Regardless of whether the New York boxing commission decides today to do something or nothing, which undoubtedly is the thing it does best, the Schmeling-Sharkey fight will be announced within a week for an out-of-town locale, probably Chicago. That's my story and you can go and sing the contralto accompaniment with Sweeney's boarder right out there where everybody can hear you. The business is on like a shirt in public and everyone knows it, even the New York boxing commission, which is generally supposed to be under contract to know nothing all day long.

The garden corporation, threatened with everything except a night in the workhouse unless it plays nine full innings of ball with the commission on the Schmeling suspension, has reached into the limbo of things almost forgotten and—up it comes with a joker. The latter is nothing more than the old army favorite, known as the "dummy" promoter.

History Repeats

History thus is about to play itself another encore. In 1926, the late Mr. Rickard found that he was as welcome as writ of mandamus, whatever that is, with his first Tunney-Dempsey fight and so he borrowed the name of a Philadelphia promoter, but on his fight there and split everything two ways—one way for each pocket. The next year, he chose Chicago as his site and Mr. George F. Getz as his "dummy" promoter. His choice was excellent in both respects. That is to say Chicago gave entire satisfaction and so did Mr. Getz.

Anyhow, this was lese majesty in any [illegible] commission ever did anything about the matter, it forgot to notify the Garden corporation. As a matter of fact, the commission went to both fights, if I recall the incident correctly. It probably went in a high dudgeon, but that is largely a matter of taste. Most people prefer to go in a taxicab.

In any case, a precedent was established and that's all this man they call Bill Carey needs. He may not know much about boxing but he knows that precedent is something that proves you are right even if you happen to be wrong.

Knows Getz

He also knows Mr. Getz, a responsible Chicago businessman, from past associations at the 1927 fight and realizes that he can be relied upon to go in there without a warm up and "dummy" with the best of them. Unless an overnight change of plans is effected, the fight again will go to Chicago. Boston, it is understood, had been considered but there was no one but the Boston garden people to play with and that would too much like a meeting under the stands. Philadelphia was mentioned as having a chance but, somehow, the proposition never got to first base.

Detroit and Chicago are the odds-on favorites and always were. They like Detroit around the garden but it lacks one essential. It hasn't a local Mr. Getz. It boasts a Mr. Dick Dunn but the latter is presumed to have something of a tie-up with the garden and again this would look like signals in the backfield. Besides, the boys don't want a professional promoter. He might begin getting ideas being somewhat overdue, and start promoting all over the place.

LUTHERANS AWARDED TILT BY COMMISSION

First 1929 Protest Heard by Commission at Meeting Last Night

The first protest of the 1929 season was presented to the Marion recreation ball commission at its meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A. and was allowed. It was presented by the Lutherans on a game played with the United Brethren nine on July 1 which was won by the latter, needless to say.

The Lutherans protested the use of Kenneth Fields by the U. B. nine, on the grounds that he was registered with and had played several games with the Epworth Seniors in the First church league.

There was little doubt about his ineligibility to play with the U. B.'s and the protest was awarded unanimously. The victory where defeat had stood before placed the Lutherans in a tie with Asbury for first place.

Another protest that had been filed by the Christians against the Forest Lawn team was withdrawn by the former.

President Crissinger announced that a special meeting of the commission will be held immediately before the start of the Little World Series, which are expected to get under way late in August or early September.

INDIANS FURNISHING MOST OF FIREWORKS AS YANKEES FADE OUT

Tribal Pitchers and Hitters Looking Great as They Fight for Third

BY LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, July 23—A new series of intersectional engagements in the big leagues gets under way today with the clashes between the Giants and the Cubs, Detroit and the Yankees, and Cleveland and the Athletics featuring the card.

With the dynasty of the Yankees apparently ended, the spurt of the Cleveland club is providing most of the fireworks in the American league. During their home stand just concluded the Indians won ten out of seventeen games, including three out of five from the Yanks, and took fourth place away from Detroit.

The Indians, who finished seventh last year, are now hopeful of overtaking the third place Browns. They boast a formidable hurling corps in Ferrell, Miller, Hudlin, Shaute, Zahn and Mitjus and a quartet of sweet hitters in Fonseca, Falk, Morgan and Averill.

The millionaires associated with the club have been shipping cash by the bale in exchange for raw talent and the splurge is beginning to bear fruit. Another load of high grade ivory is to be imported next year, when the team may be ranked as a bona-fide pennant contender.

In the only game played yesterday the Pirates increased their lead over the Cubs to a game and a half by slaughtering the Brooklyns, 11 to 3. Sparky Adams led the parade with four hits, and in the fourth inning the Bucs hopped on Moore and Dudley for seven runs. Brame pitched for the winners and was never in danger.

Three Association Players Draw Short Suspensions

CHICAGO, July 23—Suspension of John Butler and Earl Smith of the Minneapolis club and L. J. Bowen of Columbus for their conduct in Sunday's games was announced today by President Hickey of the American Association. Butler drew five days and Smith three. They were alleged to have incited fans to shower Umpire Johnson with pop bottles.

1928 that Mack had each cog in its right place every unit working perfectly, and the juggernaut in full action By that time the Yankees had stolen a lead of about 18 games seemingly a margin supremely safe Let the Athletics finally in stride actually caught them The terrific effort they had to make the nervous energy they expended exhausted them somewhat and when the final test came with the Yankees the A's faltered just enough to lose the leadership and the pennant

Won on Merit

The Mackmen started off this season where they left off last October There has been nothing flukish nothing really lucky in their amazing showing They have won on merit Possessed of fighting hearts imbued with the will to win having at his from the top of the batting order to the bottom and with the pitchers rumbling along in frictionless fashion—well how can they toss off the flag unless a catastrophe hits them?

The Yankees are playing eccentric and sometimes tail-end baseball They are essentially front runners They do not seem to have the knack of racing from behind The Browns are no real menace A good ball club—that's all It will take a super team to tag the Athletics

The Philadelphians may bend occasionally close the rest of the trail and toss off some of their lead Those things happen But its just as likely that they will do the opposite and increase the gap between themselves and closest pursuit

Oh Mr Menke

At any rate they loom right now as the surest of sure things in ball room history If they don't snag a pennant for Connie Mack this year then Pikes Peak is a molehill

real the Eagles by a half game while the Shovels are one full game behind the Birdmen

The Kappas and Shovels play both Wednesday and Friday nights of this week the benefit clash Wednesday being a postponed game from last Wednesday These two teams were rained out in the first round clash and when they tried to play it off last week they found themselves deadlocked at seven runs each at the end of 11 torrid innings of play The game Wednesday should be worth watching

Smith, Shovel manager, is expected to start Ralph Clark while the Kappas will depend on their ace, Roscoe Rank.

The game will also mark the 1932 debut of Norris Crissinger in his old duties as an umpire He will be behind the plate with Leo Keller on the bases Don't forget just a thin dime is all it takes.

"I Just Know We Will Win That Five Hundred Dollars"

If you were on the Information Desk at The Marion Star, or were a clerk in almost any store in Marion, you would know that hundreds of Marion homes are DETERMINED to win the first prize in the great "Who's the Dealer" Contest.

We are mighty glad that so many have started in this contest, but this advertisement does not concern them at all.

Have you failed to enter so far? Maybe you missed the first issues and, so think you have no chance. Well, this is your opportunity.

One Thousand Extra Contest Pages Free

Two weeks ago the first contest pages were printed and the first question asked, "What is the name of the local representative or dealer who handles the product?" There were ninety-six dealers represented on those pages and this question applied to all of them.

Last Saturday the second question was asked, "What is the address of the local representative or dealer who handles the product?" There were ninety-eight dealers on those pages, and the same question applied to all of them.

This week, on Saturday, the third question will be asked. The fourth, and final question, will be asked on August 3rd All you have to do is answer the four questions about each dealer and write a letter of 100 words or less telling why you prefer any one article or service named in these pages.

It is all so easy. If you missed the back issues, call at The Star at once for free copies of the contest pages.

Don't Telephone

If in doubt about any answer, visit the store in question and they will give you the contest answer.

HERE ARE THE 17 PRIZES TOTALING ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS

FIRST PRIZE	$500 00 IN CASH
SECOND PRIZE	$250 00 IN CASH
THIRD PRIZE	$100 00 IN CASH
FOURTH PRIZE	$ 50 00 IN CASH
FIFTH PRIZE	$ 25 00 IN CASH
SIXTH PRIZE	$ 15 00 IN CASH
SEVENTH PRIZE	$ 10 00 IN CASH
EIGHTH TO SEVENTEENTH PRIZES	$ 5 00 IN CASH

This contest is open to all—men, women and children—excepting employes of the Marion Star or any member of their immediate families.

The contest will close at 12 o'clock, noon, Saturday, Aug 10, and the list of winners will appear in this paper Saturday, Aug. 17.

Extra Contest Pages

will be given free at The Marion Star until the full thousand copies is exhausted.

RACE TRACK OFFICER ROUTS 14 INTRUDERS

Six-Foot World War Veteran Wins Battle Against Big Odds

CLEVELAND, July 23 — Lieut. Reed Hess member of the private police squad at Bainbridge race track was nursing scratches and bruises today after having successfully put to flight 14 men, whom he claimed were out of town bookmakers seeking to get back on the track

Hess who is a six footer and a World war veteran viciously battled the 14 men who attacked him and put them to flight before police aid arrived

Seven of the bookmakers according to Thomas J McGinty, operator of the track, had been chased off the Bainbridge track yesterday He believed they had returned to either discuss their chances of getting back to the track or to take revenge on the police for ousting them

Five O'clock Hawaiians

OTHER BROADCASTING NEWS

Appear at W L W

THESE three musical looking gentlemen above are reputed to be able to play 140 pieces of Hawaiian music on a moment's notice although they freely admit that they never saw a lei in action or that their acquaintance with all ralling Hula girls is limited to moving picture greetings

For way of further information the above group is known as the "Five O'clock Hawaiians" and they broadcast from station WLW Cincinnati at 6 o'clock every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and at 11 o'clock each Saturday night.

On the air the Five O'clock Hawaiians are just George Prince Ukes and Smiling Sammy Unwrapped from the glamor of the Beach of Waikiki they are just three average Americans namely Don Becker, left, Hank Karch center who is the director of the group and Carlyle Barth right

So mild were the Five O'clock Hawaiians for real atmosphere for their programs that they sent to the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce for booklets and brochures concerning the magic lands

Finding "Second Edison" Is Big Task Confronting Committee of Noted Men

Five Prominent Americans Agree To Serve in Advisory Capacity To Select Winner from Boys Representing Various States

NEW YORK—Finding a boy from that great army of bright American boys one who might ultimately become "a second Edison" is, of course, an exceedingly difficult task.

Even Thomas A. Edison the famous inventor himself probably would admit that fact if he were pinned down to an answer. For few men in all history have given themselves so unreservedly to humanity or have accomplished things of such benefit to humanity.

At any rate an attempt to find such a boy is to be made late this month by five prominent Americans—Henry Ford, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, George Eastman, Dr. Samuel W. Stratton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. Lewis Perry, headmaster of Phillips Exeter Academy, have consented to act as an advisory committee to assist Mr. Edison in selecting from 48 boys, one representing a state in the union, the one showing the greatest promise of following in the footsteps of the wizard of electricity.

Draw Questionnaire

The committee of which Dr. Stratton is the chairman, will assist Mr. Edison in drawing up his questionnaire and then in aiding him in marking the papers after the boys have taken the examination. The boys will come to West Orange, N. J., Mr. Edison's home to take part in the selection. The state nominees will reach West Orange on July 30 and be there for four days the examinations take place the third day.

Whomever the committee selects as the winner will receive the Thomas A. Edison scholarship and may attend the college of his own selection to further his thirst for scientific knowledge.

This writer is convinced, after having visited West Orange and talked to Charles Edison, president of the Edison company there, and son of the noted inventor, as well as having interviewed Mr. Edison himself in Florida early this year, that one of the big ideas in the back of Mr. Edison's head when he made the offer to the American boys was to stimulate interest in science just as much as it was to find "a second Edison." The latter assignment is a big order, and no one knows it better than the hard-working inventor himself.

Attract Young Men

But if, by the means of a contest of this character, he can cause boys to manifest a deep interest in science he will consider the time and effort well spent. It is quite likely that the contest will have just as much effect in attracting the mind of young America to science as for example the Olympic games do toward swerving the youthful mind toward the field of sports.

Mr. Edison's remarkable career is indeed something worth while for these boys to have in mind as an incentive. Edison truly is an outstanding American. He has been termed "the most useful man the world has produced."

He was born in the little town of Milan, Ohio, on February 11 1847, a poor boy. He was not particularly bright in school. In his own words he was "usually at the foot of the class." At the age of ten he moved to Port Huron, Michigan. There one day, he filled his father's chore boy with Seidlitz powders in an attempt to generate enough gas in the stomach of his associate to enable him to defy the law of gravity and rise like a balloon in the air. As a boy, Edison certainly had imagination.

Newsboy At 13

At the age of thirteen, he became a newsboy on the Grand Trunk Railroad on trains between Port Huron and Detroit. It is related that he set the baggage car on fire in the course of some experiments he was making with phosphorous in the little laboratory which he had erected.

He read and studied a great deal. He learned telegraphy. Soon he was inventing things. He devised the Edison vote recorder which official Washington was not interested in. Then he invented a stock ticker. But he made no money—so far.

So, penniless and without friends, he came to New York City, the goal of so many ambitious young men. Then he got what is spoken in the slangy jargon of today as "a lucky break." He was given $40,000 in cash for one of his inventions.

Now he had money and could spare the time to work as much as twenty four hours a day on such interesting things as telegraphy, electric pens, messenger call boxes and type writers.

Edison moved to Menlo Park, N. J. Here he devised the present transmitter, which made possible the first commercial telephone. What a blessing the telephone has been to mankind.

Fifty Years Ago

And there, in Menlo Park, in 1879, just fifty years ago, Edison gave to the world the first practical incandescent lamp, and as a result founded the great light and power industry of America. He conducted more than 10,000 tests of various materials in his quest for a satisfactory lamp filament.

Since Mr. Edison's first patent was issued in October 1868 the records show that more than 1150 patents have been taken out in his name. Truly, as Mr. F. R. Castle has stated in an article entitled "Thomas A. Edison," his genius "has kept the trail to the patent office warm."

And when those 10 boys meet the genial Edison at West Orange late this month they surely will think of these things and wonder, if by any stretch of the imagination they ever can really develop into a "second Edison."

Rosalie feels that she has earned a rest—and a cigaret—for she has just returned from a tour of millinery and beauty shoppes and she discovered that even her own face must be given over to the passion for ensembles. Her face made up she must now make up her mind as to which costume she shall wear tonight which will best suit the shade of her complexion. When she was looking at hats this afternoon she was told that the latest thing is to contrast her complexion with the hat she wears. The idea is to wear light hats and costumes with dark suntan makeup and dark hats and costumes with light suntan makeup, and the in-between shades varying inversely according to the shade of the costume. One millinery store had their own beauty shop in connection so their customers might be readily matched to the hats selected.

Ten Cities in State Show Increase; Marion Drops Over Half

With building permits totalling $1,097,520, issued in the period beginning in June 1928 and ending the same month this year, Marion helped place Ohio in sixth place among the states of the union in the value of building for the year. Comparative figures on the amount of building in numerous Ohio cities have just been released by S. W. Strauss & Co., of Chicago, as a part of a national survey.

According to the survey building permits issued in Marion the last half of last year amounted to $785,415. For the first half of this year permits amounted to $252,415.

Ten cities in the state showed increases the first half of this year over the last half of last year, the report shows. East Cleveland showed increase of 161 per cent. Marietta's building increased 109 per cent and Ashtabula showed an increase of 111 per cent. Other cities showing increases are Barberton, Cuyahoga Falls, Elyria, Hamilton, Lima, Springfield, Steubenville and Warren.

Former Marion Man Held for County Officials

Acting on a tip from Sheriff John J. Francis, Nebraska officials have taken Leonard V. Fultz formerly of Marion, into custody. He is wanted in several states on a variety of charges.

He will face a charge of desertion of his wife and children, who are now in the detention home here. He was a resident of Marion for several years, but has been missing for the last four or five years.

Ministers Win First Movie War Victory

IRONTON, July 23—Ironton ministers won their first victory in the Sunday movie war against local exhibitors here yesterday. The war started in 1927, when Joseph Stern, owner and operator of the Marlow theater here, remained open on the first day of the week, against the objections of local ministers.

Stern was convicted and fined $50, and was sentenced to 60 days in jail, yesterday in common pleas court.

The jail term was suspended pending no further Sunday shows. Stern has operated Sunday shows since 1927 and of the 14 indictments presented during the entire war, this is the first conviction.

DEAF HEAR AGAIN THROUGH NEW AID

Earpiece No Bigger Than Dime Wins Enthusiastic Following. Ten-Day Free Trial Offer

After twenty five years devoted exclusively to the manufacture of scientific hearing aids, the Dictograph Products Co., Inc., Dept. 312X First National Bank Bldg., Pittsburgh Pa., has just perfected a new model Acousticon that represents the greatest advance yet made in the restoration of hearing for the deaf. This latest Acousticon is featured by a tiny earpiece no bigger than a dime. Through this device, sounds are clearly and distinctly transmitted to subnormal ears with wonderful benefit to hearing and health alike. The makers offer an absolutely free trial for 10 days to any person who may be interested, and a letter will bring one of these remarkable aids to your home for a thorough and convincing test. German Wine Museum To Sell Cheap Drinks

TRIER—The unique German Wine museum in this ancient city, which contains exhibits representing the raising of grapes and the making of wine in all ages, has now added to its attractions a regular wine room, in which a glass of good wine is served for 25 pfenning, or 6 cents. It is probable that no other museum anywhere has a similar branch.

New smoothness that is Extra Cream—New mellowness that melts . . . it's "Chateau"

This new delicious cheese food is smooth and golden-rich with thick dairy cream. It has a new mellow keenness that sets the palate tingling .... Yet the flavor is not all. "Chateau" has a new creamy-firm consistency. It spreads as easily as butter. It slices trimly. It melts completely. Never stringy. And so quick, so convenient to use. Then "Chateau" blends deliciously with dozens of cooked dishes. Its extra richness, its added cream, its added nourishment—make it truly economical. Ask for "Chateau" by name. At your grocer's today. Ask him, too, for the new recipe booklet, "Chateau—12 ways to serve this new and delicious cheese food"—it's free.

Introducing New Asparagus
Not only new asparagus from upcountry, delicious as it is. For the kind that comes in a can may be deliciously new too—cooked with just enough onion, just enough "Chateau". Follow the recipe and meet a new flavor!

"Chateau" Asparagus au Gratin
(Delicious at dinner)
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ cake "Chateau" cut in small pieces
2 cans (small size) asparagus tips or the equivalent of fresh cooked asparagus

Melt butter in a saucepan, cook onion in fat until yellow. Stir in flour and salt. Pour in milk gradually, stirring until sauce is smooth and thick. Put a layer of asparagus in a buttered baking dish, cover with layer of sauce and dot with bits of "Chateau". Repeat. Sprinkle top with paprika and bake in oven until brown and "Chateau" melted.
